PEACE NEAR IN SPANISH CIVIL WAR

BODY OF POPE LIES IN STATE AT CATHEDRAL

CARDINALS STARTING FOR ROME TO PICK SUCCESSOR

BY RICHARD G. MASSOCK

Vatican City, Feb. 10 (AP)—Pope Pius XI, dressed in papal vestments of white and red, lay in state tonight under the famous frescoes of Michelangelo in the Sistine chapel.

His body, taken this afternoon from the brass bed where he died just before daybreak, was borne to the chapel on the shoulders of stalwart guards in a stately and colorful procession of lay and ecclesiastical dignitaries.

Crowds Pay Homage

Tomorrow morning it will be taken in an even more elaborate procession to St. Peter's cathedral where the faithful—lowly as well as noble-born—may pay homage to "the pope of peace" before burial next Wednesday.

The pontiff's death, on the eve of the tenth anniversary of the signing of the Lateran accord, which healed the breach between the Italian state and the Holy See, and only four days after he had marked the 17th anniversary of his elevation to the papal throne, thrust upon the shoulders of Eugenio Cardinal Pacelli the temporary administration of the Church of Rome.

Feb. 28 Deadline

Cardinal Pacelli ceased to be papal secretary of state and became camerlengo—chamberlain of the Holy Roman church—in which position he will guide the government until the 262nd occupant of the Throne of St. Peter shall have been selected.

The successor to Piux XI will be chosen by the college of cardinals, now numbering 62 members, in a secret conclave whose opening date still was indefinite tonight.

It will be no sooner than Feb. 25 and no later than Feb. 28, depending on when American and other foreign cardinals reach Rome.

The maximum of 18 days after the death of a pope for convening the cardinals was ordered by the late pope in 1922 after the dean of American cardinals, William Cardinal O'Connell of Boston, protested following upon the death of Pope Benedict XV against the 10-day interval then in effect.

Three Sail Today

Meeting in the Sistine chapel and taking only two votes a day, the cardinals will ballot until someone—traditionally one of the cardinals—receives a two-thirds majority.

(The three United States cardinals, Dennis Cardinal Dougherty of Philadelphia, George Cardinal Mundelein of Chicago and William Cardinal O'Connell of Boston, were expected to sail Saturday afternoon for Italy aboard the liner Rex.)

Soon after his election, the new pope will be handed the fisherman's ring, symbol of papal authority and of the end of the widowhood of the church.

The ring which Pope Pius XI wore was taken from his hand

CHANGE IN NLRB SOUGHT BY AFL

Congress Will Be Asked to Replace Board With 5 Men

Miami, Fla., Feb. 10. (AP)—In a strategic move to change the personnel of the National Labor Relations Board, the American Federation of Labor executive council disclosed today it would ask congress to replace the present three-man agency with a five-member board.

President William Green said the request would go to congress as an amendment to the Wagner act. It will be tacked on to the series of amendmenets the AFL already has proposed for extensive revision of the board's powers.

Its enactment, Green said, would open the way for a complete reorganization of the agency whose administration of the labor act has brought charges from the AFL that it is biased in favor of the rival CIO.

Under the proposed reorganization a new agency would succeed the present board under a different name than National Labor Relations Board. The AFL strategy follows that used a few years ago to effect a reorganization of the five-man railroad mediation board which was given a new title and its personnel cut to three members.

Green declared a five-man board would speed up the handling of labor disputes. Instead of the whole board working on one case, the work would be divided up among groups of two or three members.

The council also shifted the site of the AFL's 1939 convention starting Oct. 2 from San Francisco to Cincinnati.

Man Leaps 85 Feet To Death; Identified By His Fingerprints

Lansing, Feb. 10 (AP)—Fingerprints he had filed voluntarily with the state police resulted today in the identification of Roy David Muttull, 30, of Kalamazoo, as the man who leaped to his death from an 85-foot water tower in Williamston last night.

Mattull horrified a crowd of 50 persons as he clambered about the top of the water tower for nearly an hour before sitting on the edge and letting himself drop. Coroner Ray Gosline certified the death as suicidal.

Sergeant Hugo Erickson of the state police said he had identified the victim through personal identification fingerprints filed voluntarily. Some years ago, for use in just such an emergency as that which arose when other means of identifying the body failed.

Erickson said Mattull was the son of Harry W. Mattull of Union Pier.

Coal Boat Caught In Lake Erie Ice

Toledo, O., Feb. 10 (AP)—The coal freighter James Watt of the Nicholson Transit Lines, Detroit, was reported at dark tonight held fast in the ice 15 miles out in Lake Erie.

The 405 foot ship, downbound light from Detroit, was enroute here to take on a cargo of coal for the Ford Motor Co. The ice crusher "Pleasure" had carved a path through the Detroit river for the Watt.

Rivermen here believe the Watt may have encountered heavy shore ice piled up by a 30-mile-an-hour northeast wind.

MICHIGAN PUC BILL SPEEDED BY GOVERNOR

COMMISSION TOLD IT'S TOO LATE TO RESIGN

Lansing, Feb. 10 (AP)—Governor Fitzgerald declared tonight it is too late for members of the public utilities commission to submit resignations with the thought of forestalling the executive signature to a bill abolishing the agency and supplanting it with a public service commission.

'If I had the signatures of all five commissioners before me, I still would sign this bill," he said. "I think it is good legislation."

Scorns Court Threat

He received a letter of resignation from Howell Van Auken of Detroit, vice chairman of the commission, with the statement:

"The legislature already has resigned for these men."

The governor indicated he would sign the measure Wednesday, and declared he had no fear of threats by Democratic members to attack the validity of the measure in the supreme court.

It was understood Chairman Paul H. Todd and Commissioner Joseph M. Donnelly would institute the litigation, contending the measure was presented to the house of representatives illegally. In any event, Todd said, the suit would charge that the legislature had no authority to give the measure immediate effect. Without immediate effect, it would not become operative until after their terms had expired, June 13.

Aimed at Todd

Van Auken's letter of resignation to Fitzgerald declared he was "anxious that the large proportion of the competent employes of the old commission who have been industrious and thoroughly devoted to the public service should not be dismissed from their positions by reason of the necessity for creation of the new commission."

Governor Fitzgerald said when the bill was introduced to abolish the utilities commission that it was aimed principally at Todd. It has been rushed through the house and senate and requires only the executive's signature to make it a law.

STATE WILL ADVERTISE

Lansing, Feb. 10 (AP)—The senate sent to its finance committee today a bill to appropriate $200,000 a year to advertise Michigan, after the measure encountered controversy on the floor.

Senator Earl W. Munshaw, Republican, Grand Rapids, protested against the proposed increase from $250,000 a year appropriated by the 1937 legislature. As amended, the measure would provide an additional $50,000 to advertise Michigan agricultural products and would abolish a state advertising bureau directed in the last administration by Norman H. Hill, executive secretary to former Governor Murphy.

The senate passed and sent to the house a bill to declare it a felony to commit perjury in affidavits attesting initiatory petitions.

The house advanced to position for a final vote on a bill to cede jurisdiction over the proposed Isle Royale national park to the federal government.

MERIT SYSTEM FAVORED

Lansing, Feb. 10 (AP)—Bills to abolish the state civil service commission and substitute for it a "merit system" department will be reported to the floor of the house of representatives, Rep.

President In Bed; Attack Of Grippe

Washington, Feb. 10 (AP)—President Roosevelt's head cold had turned into a touch of grippe today, and his physician ordered him to remain in bed and to receive no callers.

An improvement was noted tonight. Dr. Ross T. McIntire, White House physician, reported that a fever of one degree recorded earlier had disappeared.

The presdent's press secretary, Stephen Early, also was ordered home with a head cold.

Officials said they expected the president to go ahead with his plans for a southern cruise next week, which will afford him an opportunity to rest and to see some of the fleet maneuvers in the Caribbean.

Complaints Aired On Social Security Fund 'Embezzling'

Washington, Feb. 10 (AP)—The investment of social security funds in government securities brought a Republican complaint of "embezzlement" at a house hearing today and a Democratic demand that the word be deleted from the record.

The accusation came from Representatives Gearhart (R-Calif) and Knutson (R-Minn) at hearings before the ways and means committee, of which they are members, on proposed changes in the social security act.

Knutson compared the handling of the funds with an insurance company's taking money from policyholders and spending it "on its own debts."

"Both would be guilty of embezzlement," he asserted.

When Rep. Buck (C-Calif) objected to that word as too strong and asked Knutson to withdraw it, the Minnesotan cracked. "If the gentleman knows of a stronger word, I will withdraw 'embezzlement.' "

Gearhart contended that "taking this social security money is a downright steal," adding that the social security act "in effect has legalized an embezzlement, a misappropriation, a theft, a swindle, a downright misapplication of the people's money."

COUNTY RELIEF NEEDS OUTLINED

Wayne Request Totals $4,473,000; Budgets To Be Pared

Lansing, Feb. 10. (AP)—Nine industrial counties presented their relief financing problems to the state emergency relief commission today in order that the commission might obtain a key to the needs of the other 74 counties for the final four months of the current fiscal year.

The state commission decided to meet next Friday to consider all the counties' demands and then to confer with Governor Fitzgerald to coordinate the amount they must ask from the legislature with the governor's economy program.

Total county requests for an emergency appropriation for relief between March 1 and June 30 amounted to $8,650,000, but the governor said the commission had definitely indicated that sum would be lowered to $5,500,000 or less.

After conferring with the commission today, two of the county delegations agreed to pare their demands. Saginaw county lowered its request from $229,000 to $151,000, and St. Clair county reduced its from $166,000 to $96,000.

Other county requests were: Wayne $4,473,000, Jackson $245,000, Ingham $250,000, Kent $211,000, Macomb $120,000, Genesee $339,000, and Oakland, $491,000.

The state commission declared the counties were overestimating the size of the anticipated load and the costs per case. It suggested that counties reduce their administrative personnel to a ratio of one to every 50 cases on relief in each county.

Dreams Of Gunmen, Shoots His Mother

Eunice, La., Feb. 10 (AP)—Robert Duplechin, 19, said he dreamed burglars were in the house, grabbed a shotgun and fired.

He woke to find his mother wounded in the left arm and shoulder, his brother holding him. Mrs. Duplechin is expected to recover.

Press Not Free As It Should Be, Says Ickes

Chicago, Feb. 10 (AP)—Secretary Ickes declared tonight that, "owing to economic tieups, our press is not as free as it should be in a democracy."

In a prepared address seasoned with criticism and commendation, he told the National Lawyers Guild:

"Despite abuses that are inexcusable from the point of view of the press itself, no fair minded persons would deny that American newspapers are still the best, as they are the freest in the world. Generally speaking, they print much disleading propaganda, they color the news to suit themselves, they distort the news, they suppress the news, they even invent 'news,' but they also carry much news that is vital to the public weal."

The secretary of the interior listed himself as a defender of the freedom of the press as well as a "severe critic" of its "shortcomings" and asserted he wanted it "to free itself from its own voluntary servitude."

Ickes opined government control of the press would be a "calamity."

He also stated that because newspapers play a "tremendous role" in our political and economic life, "the nation has a right to know more about them."

"Capt. Joseph Medill Patterson of the New York Daily News has suggested that it would be well for congress to investigate the press," Ickes said. "It is understood that Dean Ackerman of the School of Journalism of Columbia university has conceived the idea of a nation-wide, scientific study of the press. * * * These two gentlemen have raised an interesting question."

TRAFFIC HELD UP BY STORM; HIGHWAYS ICY

HIGH WIND BLOWS AUTOMOBILES IN DITCHES

(By The Associated Press)

Falling temperatures accompanied another icy winter blast into lower Michigan Friday night, driven by gale winds on the heels of snow and sleet storms that crippled transportation and communication facilities.

One of the season's most severe storms raged on Lake Michigan and the Straits of Mackinac, interrupting movement of car ferries. Ice covered roads in the northern half of the lower peninsula, and drifting snow hampered highway traffic in the upper peninsula.

The car ferry Sainte Marie, trapped by ice near its dock at Mackinaw City for 19 hours, freed itself Friday afternoon and completed its crossing to St. Ignace, while railway freight, train passengers and 25 automobiles on both sides of the straits waited for trans-strait service.

Buildings Collapse

Two private automobile garages collapsed in the wind at St. Ignace, several residence windows were broken and a hotel chimney was blown over. The city was supplied with electric current from Sault Ste. Marie after a local generator burned out.

Sixteen utility poles snapped under a load of sleet between Ludington and Muskegon, disrupting telephone circuits.

Five automobiles were blown into ditches by wind reaching 55 miles an hour velocity near Traverse City, and state troopers were stationed at ice-covered hills on main highways, warning motorists not to attempt to drive them. Several trees were uprooted by the wind.

Chief Wawatam Ready

Automobile traffic was at a virtual standstill through a wide area embracing Charlevoix, Boyne City, Big Rapids and Reed City. Schools were closed and bus service cancelled at Boyne City.

The ferry Sainte Marie arranged to refuel at St. Ignace before resuming its attempts to provide service at the straits. The Chief Wawatam, big railroad carferry recently grounded near St. Ignace, has been repaired at Manitowoc, Wis., and was expected to return to the straits in a day or two.

Government meteorologists predicted readings of zero to ten degrees might be expected Saturday morning.

(By The Associated Press)

A cold wave moved steadily eastward across the midwest Friday.

Residents of Illinois, Indiana and Michigan brought out extra blankets as a precaution against a zero siege.

Chicagoans watched the mercury in their thermometers shrink 40 degrees in 14 hours, from 50 to 10 above. A minimum of zero to five below was predicted there.

Thirteen states to the north and west, between Wisconsin and California, reported subzero readings. These included an unofficial 54 below zero at Chester, Mont., and 40 minus at Havre, Mont.

High winds whipped snow blockades across roads in Minnesota and the Dakotas. Snow, six to ten inches deep and drifting, impeded travellers in the northern half of Wisconsin while ice sent a number of cars and trucks skidding into ditches in the southern sector.

The coming cold was expected to halt persistent rain in the Ohio river valley and end new flood threats.

MEXICO MAKES GERMAN BARTER

Oil Will Be Traded for Nazi Machinery and Equipment

Mexico City, Feb. 10 (AP)—Mexico was reported authoritatively today to have made a new barter deal with Germany involving the exchange of approximately $2,500,000 worth of oil from expropriated wells for machinery and equipment.

It was reported also that Mexico had virtually decided to make an additional barter agreement with Germany for machinery to go into a new 8,000,000 peso ($1,600,000) government-owned newsprint factory.

Negotiations for a $3,000,000 barter deal with Italy were said to have fallen through because Mexico wanted textiles and rayons in return for her oil. Informed sources said Italy balked on swapping rayon, on the ground she had a good cash market already for the product.

These sources said that the Mexican government had "signed and sealed" both deals with Germany, but that the Germans had not yet finally accepted the one for the newsprint machinery.

Under the completed arrangement for obtaining the machinery and equipment it was said Mexico would send to Germany 100,000 tons of gas oil. The deal still pending calls for the sale of 300,000 tons of crude oil to Germany.

Mild Sniffle Cases Pestering Country; No Major Epidemic

Washington, Feb. 10 (AP)—A "mild case" of the sniffles is pestering the nation.

Public health service officials said today that while there was no major epidemic, the frequency of cold infections apparently had increased this year compared with last.

Capitol victims include President Roosevelt, Vice President Garner, Secretary Hull and Senator Borah, veteran Idaho Republican.

Emphasizing the mildness of the type of cold infection that is most prevalent, public health officials said there had been no increase in the death rate, although 17,075 cases of influenza were reported in the first five weeks of this year, compared with 14,000 in the corresponding period of 1938.

Statisticians of the service said the number of cases this year was in line with the average of a five-year period.

Compressor Noisy; Doctor Wrecks It

Kansas City, Feb. 10 (AP)—Police Sergt. Peter Barton said that Dr. Logan Clendening, 54, nationally known physician and health columnist, was arrested today and charged with destroying property and disturbing the peace.

The officer said Dr. Clendening wielded an axe on air compressing machinery used an a WPA sewer construction project a half block from his home.

Sergt. Barton quoted Dr. Clendening as explaining he was annoyed by the noise.

INFLUENZA HITS SCHOOLS

Battle Creek, Mich., Feb. 10 (AP)—Battle Creek school officials estimated today approximately 2,000 public school pupils were absent because of the current wave of influenza. Thirty-two teachers wer reported absent.

Senate Committee To Give Armament Hearings Publicity

Washington, Feb. 10 (AP)—The senate committee handling the Roosevelt rearmament program decided today to make much of the information developed behind its closed doors available to the public.

A motion to hold open sessions was defeated on a tie vote, but the military committee then agreed its members should be free to tell newspapermen what happens at meetings, with the exception that military secrets are to be guarded.

At the same time, it deferred action until Monday on a motion by Senator Clark (D-Mo.), to make public a transcript of the committee's investigation of the sale of 600 privately-manufactured warplanes to France. The dispute over secrecy began after it transpired that United States officials cooperated in the plane transaction.

After conducting several hearings on the deal in executive sessions, the senate committee was summoned recently to the White House, where President Roosevelt discussed foreign policy with the members for an hour or more. They returned to the capitol with conflicting versions of what had been said and as a consequence, the president, at his next press conference, denied having asserted America's frontier was on the Rhine.

At today's meeting, Senator Austin (R-Vt.), offered a motion to open future hearings to the public. The vote was eight to eight, and for a lack of a majority, the motion failed. Senator Logan (D-Ky), said he was prepared to follow this with a motion to continue executive hearings, but since it was apparent it would be beaten by the same eight-to-eight alignment, he did not offer it.

SHIP AGROUND; CREW RESCUED

Oil Tanker Crashes On Rocks In Fog; Cutter Reports 31 Safe

Block Island, R. I., Feb. 11 (Saturday) (AP) — Abandoning their grounded ship, the captain of the tanker Lightburne and 19 members of his crew early today were rescued by coast guards who struggled through heavy seas to reach them before their ship started to break up on rocks off this island. Sixteen sailors had been saved earlier.

The Radiomarine station at Chatham, Mass., received this last message from the operator on the stricken Lightburne at 12:37 a. m., EST:

"Going off now to go on board cutter Active."

Radiomarine said the 16 men, rescued shortly after 10 p. m. last night, had been taken first to the Active and then to the Block Island coast guard station. The last contingent to be taken from the Lightburne numbered 20 men, including the captain.

Shortly before midnight, Radiomarine reported, the Lightburne, which flashed an SOS at 7:46 p. m. EST, last night, messaged "We are going down. Looks like all hands must now leave. Captain says will know in few minutes."

This message was followed by a request from Captain Wolman, of the tanker, for the coast guard to take off the remainder of the crew, leaving himself, two mates and the radio operator on board.

However, that request was superseded quickly by the Lightburne operator's final signal that everyone was leaving.

Marquette Concern Loses Court Appeal

Cincinnati, Feb. 10 (AP) — The sixth U. S. circuit court of appeals upheld today District Judge Fred M. Raymond of Grand Rapids in dismissing the suit of F. B. Spears and Sons, of Marquette, Mich., against Arthur Strom company and the Seaboard Insurance company, Detroit, involving $4,050.43 asserted due on contracts in three Michigan CCC camps.

Milwaukee Big Ben Is Stopped By Wind

Milwaukee, Feb. 10 (AP)—The wind "stopped the clock" today. It blew with such force against the south face of Milwaukee's Big Ben, in the city hall tower, that it broke the control shaft on which the nine-foot minute hand and six-foot hour hand rotate.

Lansing, Feb. 10 (AP)—The attorney general's department held in an opinion today township treasurers may not write delinquent personal property taxes off their books.

FRANCO'S MEN OCCUPY LAST BORDER POST

FEB. 18 SUGGESTED FOR SURRENDER OF LOYALISTS

Perpignan, France, Feb. 10 (AP)—Premier Juan Negrin of government Spain flew back to Spanish soil today apparently still determined to fight to the end against the insurgents.

But Insurgent Generalissimo Francisco Franco's forces had planted their banners at Puigcerda, the last frontier post abandoned by fleeing government troops in northeast Spain, and neutral observers predicted peace in Spain within a few days.

Despite government declarations of continued resistance and denials of any peace negotiations, the date of February 18 was suggested for the surrender of central Spain. The civil war then will be just 31 months old.

RETURNS TO MADRID

Valencia, Feb. 10 (AP) — Premier Juan Negrin returned today to what is left of government Spain and announced tonight that the new Spanish government headquarters would be located in Madrid.

The premier, who came back to the shrunken government territory after having fled into France from insurgent-conquered Catalonia, made the announcement after conferring with his still undefeated commander-in-chief, Gen. Jose Miaja.

Clemency Sought

In London, British Prime Minister Chamberlain conferred with a cabinet committee on the question of early recognition of the Franco government by both Britain and France. Chamberlain was said to believe the end of the war was imminent and to favor every possible inducement to the insurgents, financial and political, to counter Italian and German influence.

Sir Robert Hodgson, British agent in Burgos, the insurgent capital, started back there from London with fresh instructions. Informed sources understood he had been ordered to ask Franco for specific guarantees of clemency for Spanish government leaders as an essential condition for surrender.

Negrin, who had crossed into France, flew by commercial airliner from Toulouse to Alicante, Spain, and from there went to Valencia.

Both Negrin and his foreign minister, Julio Alvarez del Vayo, conferred with General Jose Miaja, commander-in-chief of all government forces in the one-fourth of Spain left to the government in the central zone.

Italians Held Back

The ministers were believed to have encouraged Miaja, "savior of Madrid," to hold out.

At the same time, Miaja declared absurd reports that either he or his general staff had negotiated with Franco for peace.

The insurgents' occupation of Puigcerda gave them control of all frontier posts along northeast Spain's border with France from the Atlantic to the Mediterranean.

Except for a few pockets, mostly in mountainous country where the government's defeated Catalonian army still was in Spanish territory, Franco's armies had achieved the goal of the great

In the Headlines From Washington

(By The Associated Press)

The senate military committee, handling the administration's rearmament program, decided to make public much of the information developed behind its closed doors.

The state department announced it had licensed the export of $4,471,471 worth of airplanes—mostly military craft—to Great Britain during January.

Secretary of Agriculture Wallace warned senators that a proposed law to fix prices for farm products would cause a billion-dollar increase in consumers' food costs and bootlegging of farm crops.

Rep. Gearhart (R-Calif) and Rep. Knutson (R-Minn) complained at a house hearing that investment of social security funds in government securities was akin to "embezzlement."

Representatives of virtually every state filed briefs with a senate committee challenging the constitutionality of a proposed federal tax on income derived from state and municipal bonds.

RAIL VETERAN PASSES AWAY

James Sanderson Called By Death at Age of 77 Years

James Sanderson, 77, retired Chicago and North Western brakeman, and a resident of Escanaba for nearly sixty years, died at one o'clock Friday afternoon at St. Francis hospital, where he had been a medical patient since September.

Mr. Sanderson was born in St. Jerome, Quebec, April 20, 1861, and came to the United States when he was a youth of fifteen.

He lived for a few years at Marquette, and later at Powers, before moving to Escanaba. He had made his home here since 1881, for many years, with a nephew, Edmond Anderson of 307 North 19th street.

He was a brakeman for the Chicago and North Western railway, in the service of the company for 54 years, and was retired with pension eight years ago.

Surviving are his nephew, of this city; two brothers, James and Edward Anderson, and two sisters, Mrs. Anna Robiard and Mrs. Philomene DeShambo, all of whom live in Canada.

The body was taken to the Degnan Funeral Home where it will rest in state, beginning late this afternoon. Services will be held at a requiem high mass at St. Anne's church Monday morning at 9 o'clock, Rev. Fr. Joseph E. Guertin officiating, and burial will be in St. Anne's cemetery.

Former Negaunee Man Now Skates In Sonja's Show

Negaunee — Since he joined Sonja Henie's company less than two years ago, George Holm, skater who is visiting here, has toured the circuit as far north as Toronto, Canada, and as far south as Miami, Florida.

Holm, born and reared in Negaunee, left here in 1928 to enter the navy and has lived a decade crowded with interest and thrilling experiences. During the four years he spent with Uncle Sam's sea forces he learned enough of a mariner's life to qualify for almost any job on board a sea vessel, but he was much too wrapped up in the ice sport to give his nautical possibilities a thought. At every port his ship put in—Seattle, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Portland—he went ashore and made for the nearest ice rink, always rehearsing when he had the opportunity to perfect his technique on the blades.

Taught by Shipstead

In 1932 he left the navy, going to Duluth, Minn., where he practiced constantly under the tutelage of Roy Shipstead, one of the country's best skating experts, leraning the Jackson Haines spin, the loop jump, the Axel Paulson and Lutz routines, and countless others in the expert's repertoire.

Later he was in Los Angeles again. Spotted on a rink by a Twentieth Century - Fox scout in search of skating talent for Sonja Henie's second picture, "Thin Ice," he was asked to report with 500 others for a tryout at the studio. There, the skater must "sell" himself—his talent, dexterity and skill—to the casting director. Reminiscing on this important day, Holm says that by an unusual twist of good fortune, he was the first one selected to perform in Miss Henie's picture, and so began his career with the most famous ice troupe in the world. He has appeared in all of Miss Henie's film vehicles with the exception of the first. These include "Happy Landing," "My Lucky Star" and "Thin Ice."

KELLY WARNS OF DEADLINE

March 1 Is Final Date for Using 1938 Auto Tags

With the deadline approaching when the 1938 license plates will no longer be legal, Harry F. Kelly, Secretary of State, points out that over 5,000 automobile titles, lost by their owners in the past, are being held by the Department until their owners realize their loss and inquire for them.

If the correct addresses were known, these titles would of course be sent to their owners, but the file of "lose titles" contains only those which postal authorities have returned after not being able to deliver because of faulty addresses given by applicants for titles.

Kelly points out that annually thousands of people are frustrated for a time at least by a frantic search for their car titles which they must present when they apply for plates.

With well over 1,200,000 motor vehicles still without their 1939 license plates and the deadline set by law at midnight, February 28, Kelly points to an inevitable jam at every Department of State Branch Office in the State at the end of this month. He stresses the fact that the 1937 legislature designated the last day of February as the final date for plate or permit purchase each year and neither the Secretary of State or any other official of the State or municipal officer has any discretionery power to extend the date permitting the use of 1938 plates. He suggests that those deferring their purchase of plates through necessity make certain at this time that they have their titles available.

Motorists are urged to purchase their plates as early as possible to avoid the discomfort of standing in line. Half-year plates are now on sale at all Branch Offices of the Department of State.

SEVERAL WILL ATTEND MEET

Retail Lumbermen Gather At Milwaukee On February 14

Local lumber and building material dealers are planning to be among the more than 3,000 persons expected to attend the forty-ninth annual convention of the Wisconsin Retail Lumbermen's Association in Milwaukee, February 14 to 16. Low cost housing will be the theme of the meeting, both in addresses and the exhibits showing the latest developments in building products designed to lower new residence costs to consumers, it was announced by C. S. Walker, retailer of Columbus, Wis., state president.

Among those expected to attend the meeting will be Hubert Shepeck, Mike Farrell, W. W. Meiers, R. A. Chynoweth, Steve Tart, Jack Trottier and Max Council.

With authorities agreeing that the building horizon has not been as bright in a decade as it is for 1939, much time on the program of the convention will be devoted to discussing advertising, merchandising and salesmanship. Facts relating to building costs, simplified financing plans and private industry's contribution to the field of low cost housing will be stressed. Retailers will tell how they promoted through local newspapers and in cooperation with others in the home building and furnishings trades, demonstration homes to show the building value obtainable currently by prospective owners of new homes. Such operations in the Fox River Valley will be described by Otto Lieber, Jr., lumber dealer at Neenah and Appleton. The national sales development program will be described by Hawley W. Wilbur, president of the Wilbur Lumber Co., with yards in seven Wisconsin towns.

Others to address the convention will include Vincent Tutching, of the National Retail Lumber Dealers' Association; Paul E. Kendall, of the Merchandising Institute; Jacques Willis, C-W Plywood Company; A. S. Putney, of Curtis Publishing Co.; Don Critchfield, of the Lumber Products- Better Paint Campaign; H. P. McDermott, manager of the mortgage department of the Retail Lumbermens' Mutual; J. E. Heath, Brillion, Wis., treasurer, and D. S. Montgomery, Milwaukee, secretary, of the association which includes Wisconsin and Upper Michigan dealers.

U. P. DAIRYMEN WILL CONVENE

Three-Day Session To Be Held at Marquette Feb. 24-26

Members of the Upper Peninsula Dairy Manufacturers' association will hold their sixth annual convention at Marquette from February 24 through February 26, William A. Asselin of Norway, association secretary, announced yesterday. Milk dealers, ice cream manufacturers, cheesemakers and buttermakers form the organization.

J. C. Hasler of Hancock is president, Dr. S. H. Buck of Marquette is vice president, and Miss Esther Anderson of the Hoyler Baking company, Escanaba, and L. Johnson of the Rapid River creamery are district vice presidents.

On Friday, February 4, the opening day of the convention, L. N. Franke, secretary of the Michigan Allied Dairy council, will talk on Michigan dairying and George Girrbach of Sault Ste. Marie will present a report on the Dairy Industries Exposition at Cleveland, Ohio. At the evening session, which will begin with a 6:30 dairy luncheon, Mayor L. W. Biegler of Marquette will welcome the association members and an entertainment program will be presented by the Upper Peninsula Wolverine association, made up of supply men affiliated with the dairy manufacturers' association.

Sports on Program

The program for Saturday, February 25, will open with a talk on Michigan butter and buttermaking by Joseph Jensen, Michigan State college dairy specialist. Dr. I. A. Gould, Jr., of Michigan State college will talk on oxidized flavors in milk, and Arthur Schubert of the Chatham Experimental Station will discuss the 1938 Upper Peninsula milk survey. Two butter and milk scoring contests, one for men and one for women, will be held.

Saturday afternoon has been set aside for a winter sports program at Superior Hills, near Marquette, where tobogganing, skiing and snow-shoeing will be supervised by Ben Knauss.

The saturday evening banquet session, at which Webster Pearce, president of Northern State Teachers college, Marquette, will be toastmaster, will feature presentation of a trophy to the plant showing greatest general improvement during 1938. L. R. Walker, Marquette county agricultural agent, will discuss the relationship between the dairy produces manufacturer and the producer, and H. C. Jackson, professor of dairy industry at Wisconsin university, will talk on the increasing consumption of dairy products.

On Sunday a business session will be held at 9:30 o'clock, with election of officers and selection of the 1940 convention city.

Hospital

The condition of Nelson Cook, who is seriously ill, at St. Francis hospital, showed a slight improvement yesterday.

Charles Smith, Ensign, submitted to an operation for relief from appendictis.

George Hallfrisch, Schaffer, was admitted for treatment.

WINGS OF THE NAVY was filmed on location at two Naval Air Bases—Pensacola, Fla., and San Diego, Calif., with the full cooperation of the U. S. Navy. The picture shows how thousands of air-minded youths are trained to become expert flyers; it shows for the first time on the screen, our Navy's flying 'destroyers' in battle maneuvers, speedy pursuit ships in aerial attacks, seahawks flying blind, test pilots power diving from 10,000 feet and leveling off at 5,000 feet . . . and many more daring air exploits never before filmed! It demonstrates the importance of the U. S. Navy Air Force as America's first line of defense.

CAMP IS BUILT AT CLEAR LAKE

Recreational Structure Progresses Rapidly; for Public Use

Munising, Feb. 10.—Construction of a forest recreational camp at Clear Lake, by the Forest Service is progressing rapidly according to District Ranger Schafer. The camp is located on the northeast shore of Clear Lake approximately eight miles southeast of Shingleton.

The camp, designed to accommodate organizational groups who desire summer outings, consists of fourteen buildings; 1 pump and generator house with water tower, 2 bath-houses with showers and lavatories, 8 sleeping cabins, 1 first aid building, 1 administration and recreation hall, and 1 kitchen and dining hall. The complete unit will have a power, water and sewerage system, making it completely modern throughout.

The camp site will be landscaped to conform with the natural layout of the area. No artificial landscape improvements will be made since such improvements will detract from the naturalness of the area. Walks will be simple paths winding through the white birch trees. Tree growth will be maintained in its original condition with exception of a small amount of removal of poor trees.

Additional improvements such as swimming beach, swimming and boating docks, council ring and community fire place, outdoor amphitheater, soft ball diamond, small game area and horseshoe courts will be constructed to provide outdoor recreation for the group. Hiking trails will be marked out around the lake and in the vicinity of the camp. These trails will be simple foot ways with only enough clearing to prevent branches from whipping hikers. Trails will be laid out to all points of natural beauty.

The construction of the camp is handled principally with CCC funds with supplementary funds from ERA allotments. CCC crews from Camp Evelyn furnish the labor for the project. Mr. Con Leiphart has full charge and is assisted by Foreman Harry Persons of Rapid River.

Construction of this recreation camp, says Mr. Schafer, gives us an excellent chance to train CCC enrollees in elements of carpenter work. Many of the enrollees who had no knowledge of the use of carpenter tools are now able to handle many of the intricate details of the work. Project training is supplemented by camp training courses in blue-print reading, electrical wiring, plumbing and elements of carpentry. These classes are taught by the foremen in charge of the project.

The purpose of the camp is to provide fully equipped buildings to house organizations who desire summer outings. The camp will accommodate 64 people in addition to the supervisors, and kitchen help.

The forest camp will be available for lease at a nominal figure to any reputable organization such as Boy and Girl Scouts, YMCA, YWCA. Church Organizations, Social service agencies, Community Chests, business employee groups and independent groups. Priority will be given to underprivileged and charity groups, those whose stay will be financed by social service agencies, etc.

The Forest Service will supply all needed furnishings, furniture, row boats, provide for maintenence of camp, operate water and lighting plant, furnish fuel and administer the regulations of the camp. The committee will furnish kitchen and dining room linen, bedding, food supplies, recreation and cultural equipment, miscellaneous supplies (soap, toilet articles, etc.) and provide supervisory personnel such as directors, secretary, doctor, kitchen personnel, instructors, etc. Permits issued prior to occupancy will contain all provisions applying to occupancy of the camp.

The forest camp will not be available for use by individuals or families since there are many private resorts who cater to this type of recreationist. It is not our aim to compete with private industry but to provide housing for group outings, such as does not exist at the present time.

The forest camp will be under the supervision of the District Forest Ranger. Applications for occupancy will be received and permits issued by Mr. Paul A. Wohlen, Forest Supervisor, Upper Michigan National Forest, Escanaba.

It is expected the Clear Lake Camp will be ready for occupancy before the middle of the summer.

School Plans To Publish Annual

Plans have been perfected by which the Mathias Township High School will publish an Annual this year. An annual staff has been formed with Principal Everett Steinbach as faculty advisor. The staff with Superintendent I. S. Davis as faculty sponsor, made a contract with the Intercollegiate Press of Kansas City for supplying materials for a novel annual, much of which is to be printed in the High School here by Mimeograph process.

Robert Flynn is editor-in-chief of the "Tales-of-Time-1939". Hilda Rautio is assistant-chief-editor. Donald Mills has been selected business manager, and he has elected William Bucholtz as his assistant. Grace Trenary is production manager with Arthur Tytinen as assistant, Walter Tuuri is Sports Editor, Susan Gregg is Social and Literary editor, Catherine Aihler is art editor, and Jack Case is picture editor, while June Kiser is Alumni editor.

Support Pledged To Fitzgerald By Alger Republicans

Munising, Feb. 10—Alger county Republicans in their meeting held here on Thursday adopted a resolution commending the present Fitzgerald administration and pledging support to it by the Alger county organization. The resolution follows:

"Whereas, the present administration in taking charge of the state government on January 1, 1939, found the budget out of balance to the extent of twenty million dollars despite greatly increased revenue; and

"Whereas, during the last administration both labor and industry were harrassed and restricted by an epidemic of the most violent strikes in the history of Michigan; and

"Whereas, the present civil service act passed by the Democratic legislature sought to give Democratic appointees permanent tenure of office; and

"Whereas, our present state administration has nobly undertaken the task of returning the people of the state of Michigan to sound governmental methods amidst the tremendous difficulties created by the past administration;

"Therefore, Be It Resolved, that we, the Republicans of Alger county in convention assembled, commend the Republican administration and the legislature for the constructive steps they have taken to bring about a balanced budget; a labor relations act fair to employees, employers and a great third party, the public; and rectify the evils of the present civil service act; and

"Be It Further Resolved, that we hereby pledge our continued support to Honorable Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald and his program to bring back sane government for all the people in our great state of Michigan."

Miss Louise Evanski of Detroit has joined the staff of the Munising hospital as nurse. Miss Evanski is a graduate of the Mather high school with the class of 1932. She completed her nurses training at Providence hospital, Detroit, in 1937, and was employed there until recently. Miss Evanski is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Evanski, now of Detroit, former residents of Munising.

Announces Plans for Police School

Police Chief Donald McCormick of Marquette announces that a police training school will be held in Marquette April 3 to 9 in cooperation with the federal bureau of investigation and the Michigan state police. Both agencies will send instructors and equipment and all police officers in the Upper Peninsula will be invited to take advantage of the intensive course of training.

COAL THIEVES ARE ARRESTED

Hotel Man Pays Fine for Receiving Stolen Property

Ernest Valiquette of North 11th street and Rene Larchelier of North 13th street pleaded guilty to a charge of theft when arraigned in justice court here yesterday. They were arrested by city police officers at 2 o'clock yesterday morning, with coal which it was charged was stolen from the Phoenix Lumber company.

Herman Robarge, proprietor of the Palm hotel, was arraigned with the two on a charge of purchasing coal with the knowledge that it had been stolen. He pleaded guilty, and paid a fine of $15 and $8.25 costs.

Valliquette paid costs of $8.25 and was freed, and Larchelier, unable to pay, was sentenced to serve ten days in the Delta county jail.

COW TESTING IS DISCUSSED

Delta County Dairy Herd Improvement Ass'n Meets Here

Members of the Delta County Dairy Herd Improvement association discussed plans for the year at a meeting held at the courthouse yesterday with E. C. Scheidenhelm, East Lansing, and A. R. Schubert, Chatham, extension dairymen of Michigan State college, and E. A. Wenner, county agricultural agent.

Directors of the association were informed of their various duties so that the organization will be able to render worthwhile services to its members. The permanent identification program also was explained.

It was brought out at the meeting that there are now nine associations in the Upper Peninsula, with about two hundred herds on test. The Delta county association has 13 members, with about two hundred and fifty head of dairy cattle on test.

Elmer Johnson of Escanaba, Route One, was appointed secretary-treasurer of the association to succeed Henry Whybrew, resigned.

Orange and Black Gives Pep Assembly

The Orange and Black society presented a debate pep program at the Escanaba high school student assembly Friday morning.

An original skit of a mock trial was arranged by the members of the society. The cast included: Judge, Thor Nilsen; defending attorney, Hubert Wood; prosecuting attorney, Charles Thatcher; clerk of court, John Cleary; defendant, Jack Shank. Witnesses and jurors in the cast were members of the Orange and Black.

Following the skit, Jean O'Leary, Thor, Nilsen and Bertrand Henne gave short talks.

Bob Brackett, president of the Orange and Black, was chairman of the program.

GALE BREAKS UP ICE PACK

Menominee Fishermen Lose More Nets As Ice Goes Out

Menominee, Feb. 10.—A gale from the west today completed the break-up of Green bay ice shattered in a storm last week, carried away fishermen's nets valued at $15,000 and halted attempted salvage of more than $75,000 worth of nets lost last week.

If the gale continues, fishermen said, all hope of salvage will be lost.

Strong southwest and northwest gales, a severe cold wave and light snow is forecast for tonight and tomorrow.

The storm ended ice fishing for the winter, they added, because ice probably will not form solidly enough again for traffic.

No Federal Aid

Mayor Michael C. Olsen announced he was today informed by the Disaster Loan corporation of the federal government that it could not assis tthe fishermen. The mayor said that other suggestions to obtain help for the fishermen are being investigated.

The Disaster Loan corporation was empowered only to make loans in 1936, 1937 and 1938. Unless the program is renewed by an act of congress it is impossible for the corporation to be of any assistance to the fishermen who have been made virtually destitute by the storms, Mayor Olsen was informed by Ben. C. Maynard, Minneapolis, agent for the corporation.

Southwest winds last night drove water into Green bay from Lake Michigan, raised the level of the water sufficiently to open a crack in bay ice as far south as Peshtigo reef, off Peshtigo Point.

Many Destitute

Swinging farther westward the wind at 5 a. m. today set the ice moving outward from the west shore, carrying with it 50 or 60 fishing shanties, at least two pound nets, and more than 1,000 gill nets. Value of the equipment lost today is estimated by fishermen at $15,000.

About 80 fishermen had set the nets on the ice after the main body of bay ice was shattered by a storm last Wednesday.

Hit by the second major disaster in one week, fishermen today were stunned by the greatest losses in their recollection. Appeals were being made to the federal relief office for fuel and food by some of the fishermen who today find themselves destitute.

Obituary

JOHN WADE

The body of John Wade, former resident of Escanaba, who died suddenly at Waukegan, Ill., Thursday morning, will be brought to Escanaba this morning and will be taken to the home of his father, Patrick Wade, 407 South Thirteenth street, where it will rest in state, beginning at 10 o'clock. Services will be held Monday morning at 9 o'clock at St. Patrick's church, Rev. Fr. Nolan McKevitt officiating, and burial will be in St. Joseph's cemetery. Arrangements are in charge of the Allo Funeral Home.

Confirmation Likely

SENATE approval of the nomination of Frank A. Picard, Saginaw attorney, to be judge of the federal court for the eastern district of Michigan is considered to be a certainty.

The senate will not be able to raise the objections to the appointment on the same grounds as were voiced in connection with the nomination of Floyd H. Roberts of Virginia. Picard's appointment was urged by Michigan's only Democratic senator, Prentiss M. Brown of St. Ignace, and the latter apparently was in consultation with President Roosevelt.

The appointment of Picard will meet with few objections in this state. The Saginaw attorney has a record for faithful public service as the first chairman of the Michigan Liquor Control Commission and more recently as head of the Michigan Unemployment Compensation Commission. He is a past state deputy of the Knights of Columbus. Gifted with a pleasing personality, he has gained a wide circle of friends in the state.

Attainment of a federal judicial post has been viewed by Picard as "the great ambition" of his life. Judging from his past record, he may be expected to devote himself seriously to his new duties and win recognition as an outstanding judge.

No Need for Change

REVIVAL of a movement to provide for the payment of commissions to merchants who sell fish and game licenses is seen in the introduction of a measure by Representative Bolt in the state legislature.

Rep. Bolt first proposed that a fee of five cent from each license be turned over to the agent. Later, he amended his proposal to provide for the payment by the buyer of a five cents courtesy charge in addition to the usual price of the license.

There really is no need for the change in the license arrangement. The conservation department is always able to get a sufficient number of merchants to take over the license agency for the trade it attracts to their stores. Licenses also may be procured from district conservation headquarters and from the wardens.

More fish and game licenses are being sold now than in the days when commissions were paid to special agents. There is absolutely no need for changing the present arrangement.

Year of Reconciliation

THE year just passed was in many respects a bitter and an unsatisfactory one. The "Honeymoon Year of the Dictatorships," some are calling it. Business in the United States, and in the world, dropped off from 1937. The world was filled with controversies and strife.

But with 1939 scarcely under way, there seems at least a chance that it may become known as the Year of Reconciliation.

The two-and-a-half-year Spanish war, with its million dead, seems approaching the point where it started—that is, the point where the differences between Nationalist and Republican elements must be threshed out around a table.

That is the way with every war. It begins with a controversy. The thousands die and are shoveled into muddy graves. And then it has to be settled around a table, anyway.

Nobody knows just how the Spanish war will be settled. But the chance that it will be settled in some way during the year is good.

The long-standing controversy between the TVA and the neighboring utility companies is in process of settlement. This fight between the new government agency and the privately-owned utilities has been going on for six years, and there are some who believe that it has had a major effect in holding back business advancement.

If there is any truth in that, the obstacle has been removed by the agreement of the TVA to buy the Tennessee Electric Power Co. for about $80,000,000. Here, as in all settlements, concessions were made by both parties, but apparently mostly by the government.

In any case there is reason to believe that the elimination of this long-fought controversy from the business picture brightens the outlook.

Steps are being taken to settle the controversy with Mexico over expropriation of oil properties owned by Americans there.

After nearly a year of bickering, both countries have found little advantage to themselves in this unhealed breach of normal relations. There is good reason to believe that pressure is piling up behind both governments which may lead to settlement.

Of the Chinese war, as much can not yet be said. But even here there have been "peace feelers."

Despite all the unquiet and the wars and rumors of wars that have been giving the world the jitters during the past few months, it is just possible that 1939 instead of being the year of disaster might turn itself into the year of reconciliation and peace. And wouldn't that be something?

Is Death Penalty Dying?

IT'S been a long time since the country has been swept by any kind of a concerted campaign to abolish capital punishment.

Back in the old-fashioned days of the early 1900s, when human life was still considered to have value, there used to be periodic campaigns against the death penalty as barbarous.

But since the World War set up 8,000,000 white crosses and poppies grew about them while Spain and China were killing their millions, somehow objections to ridding the world of some dangerous scoundrel by summary execution sounded weak and irrelevant.

But it is not that bad. A committe of 40 lawyers banded together to work for abolition of the death penalty in Massachusetts, found that today only six states retain the death penalty with no alternative: Massachusetts, Vermont, Connecticut, North Carolina, New Mexica, and Florida.

Gradually the apparently lost ideal of a society that could maintain itself without the punitive ruthlessness of a Chinese war lord, has been making progress even without an active or recognized campaign. That is often the way of progress. Long campaigns yield nothing; the reformers tire and say "It is hopeless; nothing can be done!" And then, while they speak, the fruit they tried so long to pick drops in their lap, dead ripe at last.

RISING RELIEF LOAD

(New York Times)

The President estimated in his recent budget message that federal expenditures for unemployment relief in the current fiscal year will be 37 per cent greater than a year ago and 8½ per cent above the previous peak two years ago. The Guaranty Trust Company in its monthly review calls attention to the fact that not only have relief expenditures increased at a time of expanding business activity, but that, viewed in the longer perspective, the rise represents a continuation of an irregular upward trend in aggregate relief payments covering the entire recovery period to date.

Estimates of the Social Security Board indicate that obligations incurred from federal, state and local funds for payments to recipients of public relief in November, the latest month for which figures are available, amounted to $275,167,000, the highest monthly figure on record. Average monthly payments by years since 1933 follow:

1933	$ 87,408,000
1934	145,431,000
1935	177,471,000
1936	218,328,000
1937	194,562,000
1938 (11 mos.)	247,671,000

The year 1937 was the only one in the entire period in which the average rate of expenditures did not exceed that for the preceding year.

Strictly relief expenditures by federal, state and local governments from the beginning of 1933 to the end of November, 1938, according to the figures of the Social Security Board, totaled slightly more than $12,600,000,000. In November, also according to the board's estimates, 21,300,000 of our inhabitants, constituting nearly one-sixth of the entire population, were receiving one or more forms of public relief.

This situation, and the way in which it has been growing constantly more serious, show the urgent need of a new approach to the whole relief problem. As business improves, relief should be as far as possible self-terminating, instead of, as it apparently is at present, self-perpetuating.

THE ATTACK ON AMLIE

(Green Bay Press-Gazette)

Attacking Mr. Amlie as a Communist is both false and foolish.

Mr. Amlie, judged by his own writings and declarations, is a Socialist and the distinction is plain and should be constantly kept in mind in spite of the attempt to slur it over.

Socialists for the most part are decent people albeit as impractical as a lemon tree planted at the North Pole. Socialists are captured by idealism and fancy phrases largely because they short-sightedly look only at abuses they wish to cure and not far enough to see that their plans would create even more poisonous evils. Everyone knows the Reds for what they are, criminals, madmen and cutthroats.

The tendency in our political life to attack a man in the most severe and extreme language available is greatly to be deplored if for no other than the reason that it reflects most on those who employ it. But the charge that socialism is often the forerunner of the bitterest and most brutal forms of government is sustained. Both Hitler and Stalin used the opium influence of socialism as a lure and when the sleeping people awoke they found themselves in chains that have become tighter with every passing day.

That is the meanace of socialism. It has proven through the centuries the most killing enemy democracy has ever known. And that is the danger in Mr. Amlie even were he otherwise qualified which he is not.

VAN WAGONER FOR GOVERNOR?

(Ironwood Globe)

Launching of a "Murray D. Van Wagoner for governor" boom at the Osceola county Democratic convention at Reed City is a natural development. That the movement was started with at least his tacit consent and approval is indicated by the fact that he was present at the meeting.

A further indication that the energetic young highway commissioner is seriously considering seeking his party's nomination is the indorsement by the Osceola convention of G. Donald Kennedy, one of Van Wagoner's right hand men, for chairman of the Democratic state central committee.

It was evident during the last campaign that Van Wagoner was not enthusiastic in his support of Frank Murphy. While he took part in the campaign, his support impressed many observers as being lukewarm.

Van Wagoner has made a good record during his terms as highway commissoner. He has the backing of a powerful organization and in addition has a large personal following throughout the state. He is ambitious and if he should decide to run for governor it would be difficult to keep him from getting the nomination.

Konrad Henlein asks "Where can we find another Hitler?" and the silence is truly wonderful.

World Affairs Reviewed

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Washington, D. C.—No possession of the United States has transformed its capital in the last two decades as has the Philippine Commonwealth. Manila has changed its skyline so much during the last twenty years that it no longer resembles the city which Admiral Dewey saw in 1898. It is now a thriving commercial and industrial center with numerous factories and commercial establishments.

For several years natives from all parts of the Philippines have gone there, swelling the city's population to an estimated 400,000. This influx created a serious housing problem. Ten years ago the city sought remedies to relieve its housing congestion by directing the flow of working families to the suburbs. To accomplish this, Government authorities agreed to erect a settlement where low-salaried employees might build neat, comfortable homes away from fire hazards, where children could play with safety to both health and limb, and where families could have their own gardens. This settlement was established in Manila's north outskirts, and inducements were offered to the laboring classes to build their homes there. Response, however, was slow, for the families upon whom the benefit was conferred were reluctant to commute. The project, laudable as it was, had to be abandoned.

But a plan to relieve the population strain in the capital was not new. When Theodore Roosevelt, Jr. was Governor General of the Philippines he started the community assembly idea that soon met with reception in every town in the country. Roosevelt's idea was to improve the forgotten man's position, socially and economically.

With a background of understanding and encouragement from sundry sources, Manila again took heart and a new, vigorous movement was started about five years ago to remedy its housing problem. Manila officials and the local Red Cross chapter worked together, which resulted in the construction of small, well-ventilated cottages for laborers. So acceptable were these homes to the working class that there soon developed a demand for the construction of more such homes for the less fortunate.

Upon the inauguration of the Commonwealth Government on November 15, 1935, President Manuel L. Quezon immediately took an interest in the labor problem of the islands. He knew the living conditions of the Filipino laborers and how Manila's low-salaried employees crowd their families into inadequately small apartments—in many cases firetraps—where high rents drain their small monthly earnings.

When a great fire razed Manila's Tondo district in April, 1937, rendering 16,000 families homeless, President Quezon swung into action to give the city's less economically situated comfortable and safe homes. A wide strip of Government land fronting the north shore of Manila Bay was selected as a suitable location for tenement houses. Funds were authorized for the construction of seven long, semiconcrete buildings, each divided into adequate and well-ventilated apartments to be rented to poor families whose wage earners make not more than $50.00 per month. The undertaking met with widespread approval, resulting in a long-range program for the labor population, not only of Manila but of the entire Philippines.

The first step to build national housing projects was the acquisition by the National Government of approximately 4000 acres lying along Manila's outskirts where a model for the middle and lower classes will soon be built. Here, the low-salaried employees have an opportunity to acquire lots on which to build homes, with the aid of the Government if necessary, and under the most liberal terms.

Plans of the model city are at present nearing completion. A corporation capitalized at $1,000,000 has been formed to handle the project, in the organization of which the Government was chiefly instrumental and the entire stock of which is held by a Government corporation. Plans call for a subdivision of the acquired land into 15,000 lots to be made available to low-salaried employees of the Government and private firms on attractive terms. The purchase contracts are to run for twenty years, purchasers paying small monthly installments with interest at the rate of four per cent per annum on the unpaid balance. To prevent speculation, no individual will be allowed to buy more than one lot. To hasten development, purchasers will be required to build a house within two years after purchase. Low-salaried employees will be assisted by the managing corporation in the construction of homes.

Two main avenues—one running approximately north and south and the other east and west—are to be constructed and lined on both sides with two rows of trees. Roadways, sidewalks, and parking spaces are also provided. The city will have all the latest facilities and improvements found in the most modern communities.

A special feature of the proposed city is a park of approximately 500 acres. Space may be reserved for factories as a part of the plan of relieving congestion in the city by decentralizing industry.

Q. Please give the origin of the term Gretna Green as applied to a place where runaway marriages are performed. E. J. W.

A. Gretna Green, a small village in the southern part of Scotland, close to the English border, became a favorite place for eloping couples from England immediately after the English Marriage Law was made more stringent in the Eighteenth Century. A later requirement that both parties to a marriage must have been resident of Scotland for 12 days decreased the popularity of such marriages.

Q. Please give some information about Pittsburgh Phil, the gambler. T. E. B.

A. Pittsburgh Phil was one of the most famous characters identified with the turf. His real name was George Smith, but he used to make small bets in pool rooms in Pittsburgh and sign his slips Phil. He went to Chicago and made a wager in a pool room there, signing it Phil. As another man was using the same name, he prefaced his name with Pittsburgh in order to identify himself, and was ever afterward known by that name. He owned and raced his horses around the country and was regarded as one of the keenest judges of the fitness of a horse. He was the first person to assemble a crude type of form chart on the past performances of horses. He was at his most famous through the 80's and 90's.

New York Column

BY GEORGE ROSS

New York — The Manhattan equal of the Chicago Fair's Sally Rand, the St. Louis Exposition's Little Egypt and the 1904 Alaska-Yukon carnival's "Lady in Blue" —according to World's Fair crystal gazers—will be none other than—Eleanor Holm, the photogenic aquabelle.

For with Grover Whalen still adamant in his refusal to allow feminine epidermis-exhibits into the fair, and with Mayor La Guardia backing him on the edict, it appears that Eleanor is going to have the feminine lure pretty much to herself when the fair gates swing open on April 30.

"Alone," though, would hardly be the word. Because Miss Holm's performance this summer will be the largest single amusement enterprise on the fairgrounds--Billy Rose's "Aquacade" in the New York State 10,000-seat Marine Ampitheater.

Patterned after Cleveland's water hurly-burly of 1937, this World's Fair liquid pageantry will have a dancing ballet of 200 girls and a water-nymph ensemble of 100 swimmers and divers.

The starring role in this outdoor epic to end all epics (until the next fair comes along), is the biggest thing in Eleanor Holm's career since she sipped that beaker of champagne while traveling with the 1936 Olympic squad.

* * *

She's Little, But—

Piqued by this possibility of Eleanor Holm being the First Lady of the Fair, we sought out Lincoln Dickey, general manager of the enterprise, who led us to Miss Holm—who already is in rigorous training for her splendor-splashing debut this spring. Twenty-four times she zipped through the blue-green waters of the Park Central swimming pool, hopped out and sighed, "Not so good—slow as a mailtruck."

Eleanor is a thin, small package of femininity with a robust voice. She is blessed with that rare lack of lady athletes—muscles. Those same arms that whip her through the aqua at record-breaking tempo look for all the world like the arms and shoulders of a Broadway ingenue. She can stand the gaze of the most critical male in the world — from close-up, too. Yet, there is very little of the showgal in Eleanor. Bluntly, she reminds you of—your sister.

When Eleanor was only sixteen years old, still toting schoolbooks to Erasmus Hall high school in Brooklyn, the Broadway glamour peddlers were hot on her trail. Little known is the fact that Flo Ziegfeld, and not Rose, was the first showman to become cognizant of Mlle. Holm's optic-appeal.

For two entire years he dangled offers before her, but Eleanor preferred to kick up the waters of a public schol swimming-pool rather than kick away nightly in the spangled musicals of Ziegfeld.

At 17 (she's 24 now) Eleanor churned her way to the world's record for the 50-yard backstroke, the 300-yard medley and the 100-yard title as well. She still holds a baker's dozen of Olympic and World's titles for aqua-achievement.

Desperately.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY PEARSON AND ALLEN

Washington—The arrival of Oswaldo Aranha, Foreign Minister of Brazil, in the United States this week, has more significance than the visit of any other foreign potentate in years unless it be the forthcoming pilgrimage of the King and Queen of Great Britain.

Aranha served for four years as Brazilian Ambassador in Washington and was one of the most popular envoys since the days of Jusserand of France. But that is not why his visit is significant..

Nor are conversations regarding trade, foreign exchange, or credits the reason for his visit. These will be discussed; but the real reason goes far deeper.

It goes back to the State Department's recent awakening to the alarming extent to which Nazi-Fascist influence has penetrated in South America. It also gets down to the fact that the United States, despite the "Good Neighbor" policy is not at all popular south of the Rio Grande.

Complacent Cordell Hull hadn't realized these things until he went to the Lima Conference in December. There he had his eyes opened. Also he had his eyes opened to the fact that Oswaldo Aranha was the one outstanding friend of the United States in the Southern Hemisphere.

This country has other Latin American friends, it is true, but few of the Aranha type who will stand up and fight against any odds for friendship with the United States.

—GERMAN PLOT—

Greatest fight Aranha has made is to keep Nazi influence out of Brazil. And with his return to the USA, a State Department secret can be revealed, namely that Aranha had a lot to do with the recall of the German Ambassador from Washington. In fact, Aranha played a larger part in this than almost anyone else.

Background of this revelation goes back to last summer when the Integralistas, or Brazilian Nazis, staged a revolt. Afterwards it was discovered that funds for the revolt had come from Deutsches Amerikanisches Bank in Rio de Janeiro. It had advanced $500,000 for the overthrow of the Brazilian Government.

Immediately, the German director of the bank and his two assistants were jailed. This brought a protest from the German Ambassador, Karl Ritter, who demanded of Foreign Minister Aranha that he release the men at once. Aranha reminded Ritter that it was Brazilian law which ruled Brazil, not Nazi.

Ritter became so abusive that Aranha almost lost his diplomatic poise and threw him out.

Later when Ritter returned to Germany for the Nazi Party reunion at Nuremburg, Aranha instructed the Brazilian Ambassador in Berlin, Jose Muniz de Aragao, to inform the German Foreign Office that Ritter was not to return. However, Aragao was too timid in his statement, or else the Foreign Office deliberately misunderstood him. At any rate, Ritter left Hamburg for Rio.

Learning this, Aranha peremptorily informed the German Foreign Office that Ritter would not be received in Rio. So his ship was stopped off the coast of Portugal and Herr Ritter put ashore at Lisbon. Simultaneously Aranha recalled his own Ambassador from Berlin.

—WASHINGTON HEADQUARTERS—

Behind this drastic action was further discovery by the Brazilian Government of Nazi revolutionary attempts in the southern provinces of Santa Catharina and Rio Grande do Sul. These Aranha traced directly to the German Embassy in Washington. All the evidence pointed to Ambassador Hans Dieckhoff as the arch-plotter of revolt in Brazil.

Aranha communicated all his evidence to the State Department, and it arrived just as the Nazis began their last persecution of the Jews. So Roosevelt and Acting Secretary of State Welles figured that one way of getting rid of Dieckhoff was to withdraw the American Ambassador from Berlin, which would serve both as a protest against Jewish persecution and so arouse Hitler that Lieckhoff would be recalled immediately. This was exactly what happened.

Note—Simultaneously, cables were found signed by Dieckhoff, authorizing payments to Italian witnesses against the United States in the Kingsland, N. J., munitions explosion in 1916, which German agents were accused of setting off.

—COWBOY DIPLOMAT—

Aranha is a product of the Southern Brazil prairies. Born of a wealthy rancher, his nickname is "The Gaucho" (cowboy). Friends accuse him of having been born in the saddle. At any rate, he spent one whole year in the saddle preparing for the revolution of 1930, which put President Vargas in power. As a result of that campaign he still carries a piece of lead in his shoulder, plus four other bullet wounds.

Only 45 years old, into those years Aranha has squeezed two lifetimes. He has studied at the Military College of Rio do Janeiro, later graduated in law at the University, and even studied at the swank Ecole des Hautes Etudes Sociales in Paris.

All members of the unit, mothers and fathers and their friends, are cordially invited to the meeting.

Dance and Music Revue Entertains Capacity Audience

"Goldilocks' Dream," a charming musical revue, in which pupils of the Helen Cloutier School, dancing pupils of Helen Cloutier, and music pupils of Olive Lucas, were presented, delighted a capacity audience last evening at William Bonifas Memorial Auditorium.

The program was a well arranged entertainment of attractive dances, and musical selections in which the little children and more advanced dance pupils took part, as well as the music pupils of the studio, all cleverly interwoven in a presentation of the familiar fairy tale.

Among those taking part in addition to the pupils listed in the program of yesterday were Ethel Mae Richer who appeared in a specialty in the first act, and Howard Sullivan who was a member of the pre-band orchestra.

Attractive costumes, designed exclusively for the revue, and effective settings and lighting effects, added much to the enjoyment of the program. Accompanists for the program were Mrs. Cloutier and Mrs. Lucas.

Mr. and Mrs. August Ekman Married Fifty Years Ago Today, Reception Tonight

Mr. and Mrs. August Ekman, Sr., esteemed residents of Escanaba, are celebrating an important and happy occasion today, their golden wedding anniversary.

In observance of the day, a golden wedding program and reception will be held this evening at Unity Hall for relatives, neighbors and friends, with a special program arranged in honor of the occasion, and Sunday there will be a family dinner and open house throughout the day and evening at the residence, 1426 North Sixteenth street.

Mr. and Mrs. Ekman, both of whom are active and enjoying good health, were born in Sweden, Mrs. Ekman on February 22, 1861, and Mr. Ekman, on January 3, 1876. Their marriage took place February 10, 1889, at Svartvik, Sundsvall, Sweden.

They came to this country in 1892 and settled in Daggett, where they made their home for twenty-four years. In 1916 they moved to Escanaba, and have lived at their present residence since that time. Mr. Ekman, who was with the Chicago & North Western Tie plant, retired with pension on February 15, 1937.

They have four children, Mrs. Theo. Nelson of this city; Mrs. Emil Helgemo of Danforth; August Ekman, Jr., of Escanaba; and Mrs. Albin Pearson of Muskegon, Mich.; nineteen grandchildren and nine great grandchildren. The entire family will be with them today for the happy celebration, with the exception of the daughter in Muskegon, who is unable to make the trip to Escanaba at this time.

Music Festival Plans Revealed, Dates May 10-13

Ann Arbor, Feb. 10.—Twelve guest stars and the Philadelphia Orchestra, with Eugene Ormandy conducting, will participate in the forty-sixth annual May Festival at the University of Michigan, May 10 to 13, according to an announcement by the School of Music.

The twelve distinguished soloists who will appear during the four-day program at Hill Auditorium in Ann Arbor are: Gladys Swarthout, soprano; Helen Jepson, soprano; Giovanni Martinelli, tenor; Richard Bonelli, baritone; Norman Cordon, baritone; and Ezio Pinza, base. All are from the Metropolitan Opera Association.

Other stars scheduled to appear during the six concerts of the Festival are the well-known oratorio singer, Elizabeth Wysor; Marian Anderson, contralto; Selma Amansky, soprano; Jan Peerce, tenor; Rudolph Serkin, pianist; and Georges Enesco, renowned Roumanian violinist, who will be guest conductor.

In addition to these guest soloists the University Choral Union of 350 voices, conducted by Earl V. Moore, will present three short works, "A Choral Symphony" by McDonald; "Psalmus Hungaricus" by Kodaly; and "Alto Rhapsody" by Brahms. At the concluding concert on Saturday evening the chorus will give Verdi's "Othello."

The Young People's Festival Chorus, conducted by Juva Higbee, will be heard on the Friday afternoon program.

First Concert in 1894

The May Festival Concerts, which have made Ann Arbor one of the leading musical centers of the midwest, have been given since 1894. At that time the Choral Union, which was composed mainly of local church choir members, invited the Boston Festival Orchestra to come to the university town and give three concerts. At this first May Festival the ticket sale to persons in nearby towns was so great that special trains were arranged to bring the concert-goers to the Saturday performances.

From this two-day Festival developed the widely known four-day program. After its initial appearance the Boston Festival Orchestra returned to Ann Arbor for 10 successive years with Emil Mollenauer as the conductor. The Chicago Symphony, under Frederick Stock, appeared at the May Festival for 31 years, until 1936, when Leopold Stowkowski brought his 100-piece Philadelphia Orchestra. This same orchestra, under Eugene Ormandy, played for the 1937 and 1938 programs.

Much Interest In Jitterbug Dance Contest

About thirty young couples have enrolled for instructions for the jitterbug contest, which will feature the Eskymo Frolics ball to be held at the Coliseum Friday evening, February 17.

The boys and girls are being shown the intricate steps of America's latest dance craze by the dance team of Nedell and Day. Classes are being held at 4:30 o'clock each afternoon at the Sherman hotel dinning room. There is still opportunity for dancers to join the jitterbug classes. Instructions are free of charge.

The "Snow Ball" at the Coliseum Friday evening will have several other novelty stunts. Chet Morton's orchestra will furnish the music.

Get Comforting Relief from RUNNY HEAD COLDS

DO THIS: Put some Vicks VapoRub up each nostril and sniff well back.

NEXT, melt a spoonful of VapoRub in a bowl of boiling water; breathe in the medicated vapors for several minutes. This loosens phlegm and further clears the air-passages.

AT BEDTIME, rub VapoRub on throat, chest, and back so its long-continued double action can relieve the misery of the cold while you sleep.

TRY IT—then you'll know why VapoRub is a standby in 3 out of 5 homes.

MEN LOVE GIRLS WITH PEP

If you are peppy and full of fun, men will invite you to dances and parties.

BUT if you are cross, listless and tired, men won't be interested. Men don't like "quiet" girls. When they go to parties they want girls along who are full of pep.

So in case you need a good general system tonic, remember for 3 generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling thru" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps build up more physical resistance and thus aids in giving you more pep and lessens distress from female functional disorders.

You'll find Pinkham's Compound WELL WORTH TRYING!

BEHIND THE SCENES

By Bruce Catton

Washington—If Senator Robert F. Wagner of New York has his way this Congress will put up another $800,000,000 for the U. S. Housing Authority. The argument that will be advanced is that the Authority has at last evolved a slum clearance program that works.

Uncle Sam has been in the rehousing business since the early days of the New Deal. Under PWA, 51 housing projects have been completed, to accommodate some 20,000 families. They have been fine houses, decorative and substantial, but there has been a major complaint: they cost so much that genuine slum-dwellers can't afford to live in them.

Housing Authority people say they have turned the trick. They are financing housing projects designed to meet the needs of families whose annual income ranges between $450 and $1100. Tenants are limited to people who have been living in substandard houses.

LENDS BUT DOESN'T BUILD

Here's what has happened so far in the USHA program:

Congress voted $800,000,000 for the USHA. The Authority doesn't do any building itself; it lends money to local housing authorities set up by cities or counties which must through sale of bonds put up a sum equal to 10 per cent of the USHA loan. In addition, the USHA agrees to contribute to the local group a subsidy equal to 3½ per cent of the cost of the project. The local group, in turn, must make its annual contribution — usually by making the new housing exempt from taxes.

Because the loans run for 60 years at low interest rates, because the 3½ per cent subsidy keeps coming in year after year, and because the houses are taxfree, the rents will run, on an average, a little less than $4 per room per month. A family will be able to get a five-room home, then, for something under $20 a month—nearer $16 than $20, say the USHA people, because the $4-a-room average is pared in the larger units.

This, obviously, isn't housing that pays its own way. It isn't housing that private industry could hope to publicate and make a profit. But the USHA sees it as the most practical kind of slum-clearance work that has yet been evolved; it points out that it offers decent housing at prices that slum-dwellers can afford to pay, and that none but slum-dwellers can become tenants. Further, one of its regulations is that for every new dwelling unit built under its program, a substandard house must be demolished.

STILL PLENTY TO DO

With the money already appropriated, the USHA will eventually have built homes for 160,000 families. That looks like a big bite out of the slum problem—until the Authority's staff remarks that the common estimate is that the nation contains 5,000,000 urban homes that are sub-standard enough to come in or close to the slum classification.

The pitfalls that got in the path of PWA's slum clearance program are to a large extent being avoided on the USHA program. For one thing, this program makes use of cheaper land. It has ruled out the fancy landscaping and ornamental plazas which made some of the PWA projects look like miniature copies of Versailles. It has told the local contractors to follow the building standards current in their own neighborhoods, instead in insisting on strict government standards. It gets cheaper utility service through wholesale purchase. It requires the tenant to do for himself a lot of things that were done for him under the earlier program. It got the building trades unions to agree to set a prevailing wage rate before contracts are bid, and to stick to it; it also got the unions to agree to get along without jurisdictional strikes.

No one whose monthly income is more than five times the rent that would be charged him is allowed to become a tenant. On the other hand, the USHA insists that every tenant must have some regular income—even if it is only a relief allowance. It doesn't want to turn the new housing into a poorhouse development.

WOMEN WANT BEAUTY!

BY LOUISE HOLMES

● COPYRIGHT, 1939, NEA SERVICE, INC

CAST OF CHARACTERS

SUSIE LAMBERT—She served waffles and dreamed of being beautiful.

DICK TREMAINE — He liked Susie's waffles but he couldn't see Susie.

JEFF BOWMAN — His chief concern was to make Susie as beautiful as she wanted to be.

* * *

Yesterday: Susie had loved Dick for four years, she recalls. Now he is gone. What would she give for beauty that she might hold him!

CHAPTER VI

Susie's cry was a challenge and the fates must have heard. Else why did they busily begin to pull strings and paint a new backdrop for Susie? But it takes a while to rearrange the muddle of human personalities, even for the fates it takes a while to make the proper moves in the tricky game of life.

So Susie went on through the summer, adding public speaking to her course, studying far into the night because it was one way to pass the endless, meaningless hours. Her eyes became strained and bloodshot and she was fitted to spectacles, heavy, horn-rimmed affairs which were the last disastrous touch.

Not that the owlish effect of the glasses mattered to Susie. She had slumped mentally and spiritually. Her hands went uncared for, she allowed her hair to grow, pushing it behind her ears, ignoring the ragged fringe on her neck, she bathed and dressed and let it go at that. She plodded wearily to her classes and the shop, at night she plodded back to her lonely room. She scarcely thought, simply endured.

She considered going home, back to the Wisconsin farm which she had left when the agricultural struggle was at its peak. Susie's father was on the farm, a lovable, blustering individual who had once been a power in the community. President of the rural school board, a director in two banks, proud possessor of a fertile section. Before Susie left home he had given up outside interests and become a dawn to dark grubber for a livelihood. Susie adored her father, often she longed to see him.

There was also a stepmother on the farm and she was the reason why Susie decided against going home. Martha was shrill and positive and a nagger. Her disposition had not improved when prosperity went out the window. Susie could neither put up with Martha's tyranny herself, nor could she endure to be a daily witness to her father's unhappiness. So she stayed on in hopeless apathy.

* * *

It was in the early fall, Susie had just passed her 23rd birthday, although, in her sagging maturity, it would have taken the family Bible to substantiate this fact, when the fates made their first definite move. And even then no one could have seen that the move in any way concerned Susie.

This first step took place in the office of Harker's department store, Chicago. Harker's, in the past five years, had steadily improved and was rapidly taking its place as one of the leading emporiums. John Harker, long a silent junior partner, had gained complete management of the store at the almost simultanious deaths of his father and uncle, the staid, unimaginative senior partners. Immediately changes began to occur at Harker's. A modernistic front, all cromium and bent glass, out-dated fixtures replaced with the latest mode, practically all the stock dumped into a modern, bargain basement. New branches with imported goods, the highest paid advertising man in Chicago, the highest paid chef in the tearoom, the highest standards of merchandising in each and every department.

For two years Harker's went monthly more deeply into the red while waiting for Chicago shoppers to wake up to the fact that the new store was ultra-modern. The tide turned slowly. John Harker and Clifford Kane, his advertising head, watched each step. Now, after five years of ceaseless effort, Harker's had become the place to buy mink coats, Paris evening gowns, Irish linens, the accepted authority on hair styling and home decorating. If an article was nice, if it was exquisite and exclusive, Harker's had it and gradually profit to the owner had taken the place of loss.

Perhaps, in looking about for strings to pull, the fates decided on John Harker because they knew he was a step ahead of his time, because he obtained results with a bulldog tenacity without counting the cost. Whatever the reason, John Harker sat at his mahogany desk one morning with several leading magazines open before him. John was a handsome man in the late forties, a big man with iron gray hair, keen eyes and an indomitable energy. John was a widower, a fact which had been carefully noted by many Chicago women, but which they seemed unable to do anything about. He had two fine boys in college and—he had vision.

After perusing the magazines for half an hour he sent for Clifford Kane, head of the advertising department, and Jeff Bowman, Kane's promising assistant. They answered the call immediately, Kane, small and quick, Jeff Bowman big and rangy and red-haired. A slight enmity existed between the two advertisers, Kane ignoring his subordinate, Jeff eager and frustrated.

"Boys," John Harker remarked when they were seated, "we're missing a good bet."

"What do you mean, Chief?" Kane asked, instantly on the defensive.

Harker pushed the magazines across his desk. "These make-the-most-of-yourself contests for homely girls," he said. "The idea is going over big in New York. Why hasn't someone in Chicago thought to do it? Why haven't you, for instance?"

Kane glanced casually at the advertisments and articles, the letters written by unattractive girls, the before-and-after pictures. Jeff waited patiently.

"The thing isn't plausible," Kane said at last. "Homely women don't want to be exploited. It's nothing but a racket for the beauticians and cosmeticians. They only choose girls with distinct possibilities. The whole thing is temporary and of small value. As I say, it's a racket."

* * *

Jeff Bowman edged forward on his chair. "I think you're wrong, Kane," he said, "dead wrong." It was this sort of thing that incurred the active displeasure of Jeff's boss. Harker listened to the argument, watching the two men through narrowed eyes. Jeff continued.

"For a plain girl to become lovely, even temporarily, is an adventure, the most exciting adventure in the world. In this establishment we have everything under heaven to make a woman beautiful from the gym on the roof to the imported perfume on the main floor.

Kane frowned, as usual ignoring Jeff. "Look, Chief," he said to Harker, "We don't want to cheapen our store in the smallest way. Frankly I'm afraid of this thing. How to publicize it without humiliating the girl, how to give it a new angle or twist."

"That's what I hire you for," Harker observed mildly. Turning to the young assistant he said, "You see it, don't you, Jeff?"

"You bet," Jeff replied eagerly. "I'm sure we could work out a scheme that would make pikers of New York. Let's find a homely girl, not simply a plain girl with good features—." Creative light burned in Jeff's eyes.

"Right." Harker slapped the desk with his open hand. "We'll stop at nothing—plastic surgery—braces on teeth—anything. I want our girls to be talked about, her progress watched—."

Kane, seeing the trend, wisely faced about, 'I'll run daily articles in the papers, what our girl is doing sometimes it'll tie up with what we have to sell, sometimes not. No matter. Get women to follow our lead, to make themselves over through our daily advice. It's all right, Chief— a swell idea. I am beginning to see it now."

John Harker tapped the glass top of his desk with a pencil. "The thing is to get the right girl," he said. "To develop personality and charm, to bring out attractiveness that's lain hidden behind a homely face, to find spiritual perfections—it thrills me boys. You find the girl and I'll do the rest."

Did the fates smile? Did they switch their attention to Susie, plodding home from the waffle shop?

MANY USE SLIDE

Iron Mountain—More than 11,580 toboggan rides, carrying a total of 63,700 persons in a period of 45 days, or an average of 257 toboggan rides a day, and 1,415 riders, are the significant figures which prove, beyond any reasonable doubt, that the Kingsford toboggan slide leads all other winter sports features in this area for popularity.

The above figures were submitted today by Joseph Giovannini, Dickinson county WPA recreation supervisor.

Equipped with mechanical features which provide a maximum of safety, brightly lighted and carefully maintained, the Kingsford toboggan slide is attracting increasing numbers of fans, and this year's record of attendance, to date, is far in excess of last year, it was reported.

RATES TO BE CUT

Menominee—The M. & M. Light & Traction company's new reduced residential and commercial lighting rates will become effective tomorrow, H. H. Fisher, company manager, announced today.

The new rates are those obtained by the city in negotiations with the Light company which culminated in a five-year contract providing for light rate reductions totaling not less than 10 per cent. The council on Monday voted to abandon previous plans for construction of a municipal light and power plant.

"We will begin billing for service on the new rates with the meter readings on and after Feb. 10. The bills will be delivered three or four days after the meters are read, because it takes several days to compute the bills and make deliveries," Manager Fisher announced.

The reduced rate will mean a loss in revenue to the company of $27,000 annually, company officials said.

URGE BAY CLOSING

Sault Ste. Marie—T. B. McKinney, representing Chippewa county sportsmen and armed with a resolution from the board of supervisors, was at Lansing today to urge the conservation commission to close Potagannissing Bay to commercial fishing.

Harley Peasley and Walter Durocher, both representing the DeTour organization, were also expected to be in Lansing for the same purpose.

It is expected that the conservation commission will make its report today on the basis of an investigation conducted by Dr. John Van Oosten of the Bureau of Fisheries.

STRAITS SURVEY DELAYED

St. Ignace—An "open winter," such as this lake region has not experienced in years, has completely disrupted scheduled winter time activity in this area. Surveys on the Straits of Mackinac to determine the most feasible location for the proposed bridge have been interrupted by lack of ice and shifting floes in the Straits. Two U. S. Lake Survey engineeres have been in St. Ignace a week awaiting sufficient ice to survey the local harbor and location of the proposed breakwater. St. Ignace fishermen are "doing nothing at all," it was explained by Frederick Halberg of Halberg & Sons fisheries. There has been too much ice for the little fish tugs to operate successfully, and too little ice to support the usual fishing procedure through the ice.

REV. CARLSON DIES

Ironwood—The Rev. John Algot Carlson, 58, pastor of the Swedish Mission church at Ashland since 1926, died early yesterday at an Ashland hospital after a prolonged illness. He preached his last sermon February 5.

Mr. Carlson was well known in Ironwood and vicinity, and served as president of the Ministerial Conference of the Upper Peninsula. He was born in Sweden and emigrated to Canada 39 years ago. After being employed by the Canadian Pacific railroad for many years, he went to Chicago in 1918 where he attended North Park seminary. He was graduated in 1925 and served congregations at Adolph and Cloquet, Minn., before going to Ashland in 1926.

In 1926 and 1927 he attended Northland college.

WALTER GRIES NAMED

Houghton—Support of the candidacy of Walter F. Gries for nomination for regent of the University of Michigan was pledged in a resolution adopted by the Houghton county Republican convention held yesterday afternoon in the New Amphidrome. The resolutions adopted by the convention follow:

We, the delegated representatives of the Republicans of Houghton county, assembled in convention this eighth day of February, 1939, recognize, with a feeling of pride and thankfulness, that the people of the United States, and particularly of our own state, have turned again to the fundamental principles of government that have guided the Republican party throughout its history.

Cheese Balls

2-3 cup dry cottage cheese
1 teaspon chopped chives or onions
1-8 teaspoon salt
1-8 teaspoon paprika
1-4 cup chopped parsley

Mix together the cheese, chives, salt and paprika. Shape into half-inch balls and roll in parsley. Chill. Serve two on each salad portion.

If you intend to bake sweet potatoes, ask for Jersey Sweets. If you intend to boil them and mash them or candy them, ask for Yams.

Tools Are Stolen As Thieves Enter Machinery Concern

Officials of the A. J. Kirstin Machinery company reported to police yesterday a theft of tools and office equipment. The local concern was broken into Thursday night, and the robbery was discovered yesterday.

Missing from the concern, at 726 North 16th street, were a micrometer, an L. C. Smith No. 8 typewriter, a fountain pen and two dozen small drils.

Entry was gained through a window on the north side of the building. A screen was cut, the glass broken, and the window unlocked and raised.

Topping

1-2 cup rolled toast crumbs
1-3 cup dark brown sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
2 tablespoons butter, melted

Mix ingredients. Carefully sprinkle over the top of cake batter. Bake for 30 minutes in a moderate oven. Cool and cut into bars.

Rejuvenate Leftover Ice Cream

Leftover ice cream that has melted can be stiffened again by adding a level tablespoon of gelatin dissolved in a little cold water or milk to one pint of cream. Mix thoroughly and chill in refrigerator until solid.

Says Lincoln's Words Answer Today's Doubts

Robert Emmet Sherwood, who tells here why he thinks Lincoln's spirit lives today, is one of America's foremost playwrights and author of one of the most successful dramas current on Broadway, "Abe Lincoln In Illinois." He has been a student of Lincolniana for many years; thinks perhaps he was first attracted to the Great Emancipator because of Lincoln's great height. Sherwood, himself, is 6-feet-4.

BY ROBERT E. SHERWOOD
Written for The AP Feature Service

"My friends—I have only to say, let us discard all this quibbling about this man and the other man, this race and that race and the other race being inferior, and therefore must be placed in an inferior position. Let us discard all these things, and unite as one people throughout this land, until we shall once more stand up declaring that all men are created equal."

When Abraham Lincoln spoke those words, in Chicago, eighty years ago, the audience, composed of his fellow citizens of Illinois, rose up and cheered. A gathering of Americans would cheer the same words today, even though they didn't know that the speaker was Abraham Lincoln. For this homely man expressed in his time the whole, eternal spirit of the country in which he was born and grew to greatness.

He Said It All

Of all the great men who have lived and died upon this earth, Lincoln is the one who is most completely, vibrantly alive today. The captains and the kings have indeed departed, and been buried deep. The Caesars and Napoleons are so many wax figures in the museum of time. But the soul of Honest Old Abe goes marching on.

Frequently, today, you hear people ask, "If Lincoln were now alive, what would he say about the present situation—labor troubles, racial and religious intolerance, the menace of war?" The answer is—he said it—all of it.

There was in his time a political organization which called itself the "American Party." The name was impressive, but deceptive. It didn't fool Lincoln all of the time. The American Party was dedicated to the proposition that there is but one ruling class in the United States, consisting exclusively of those who were born white, Protestant and Anglo-Saxon. All who couldn't qualify in this restricted category — Germans, Frenchmen, Italians, Swedes, Catholics or Jews — should be denied rights of citizenship and, in effect, reduced to slavery, along with the Negroes.

When asked whether he had any sympathy for the aims of the American Party, Lincoln said, "How can anyone who abhors the oppression of Negroes be in favor of degrading classes of white people?"

In one of his greatest utterances, he said that the fundamental importance of the Declaration of Independence was that "it gave liberty not alone to the people of this country, but hope to all the world, for all future time."

He kept on repeating that principle. When there was an outburst of labor warfare in New York, he wrote to the Working Men's Association, deploring the outrages, and said, "The strongest bond of human sympathy, outside of the family relation, should be one uniting all working people, of all nations, and tongues, and kindreds. Nor should this lead to war upon property, or the owners of property."

After the outbreak of war between the states, when it seemed that the dream of Washington and Jefferson was being shattered, Lincoln sent his first message to a Congress which scorned him as an uncouth, inexperienced nonentity. He spoke to them solemnly of the devastating problems confronting the Union.

He expressed thoughts which were later to be solidified eternally in Gettysburg address. "This issue," he said, "embraces more than the fate of the United States. It presents to the whole family of man the question whether a constitutional republic or democracy—a government of the people by the same people—can or cannot maintain its territorial integrity against its own domestic foes."

The Family of Humanity

There again was his deep sense of obligation to all men of all nations. He never stopped thinking of the human race as a family.

He stated the most fundamental beliefs and hopes of mankind in words that were as simple as they were beautiful. Those same words are now printed in newspapers, spoken over the radio or from the stage, and they apply to the situation which now prevails throughout a troubled world, just as they did in the days when the United States was in danger of destruction by forces from within itself.

That is why Lincoln lives, why people today feel that his warm, friendly, understanding spirit is still with them, still giving them hope that a government of them by them and for them can not perish from the earth.

"With malice toward none; with charity for all; with firmness in the right, as God gives us to see the right, let us strive on to finish the work we are in . . . to do all which may cherish and achieve a just and lasting peace among ourselves, and with all nations."

Of such is the essential spirit of democracy, which is also still vibrantly alive.

STORM BREAKS MANY WINDOWS

Blow Is Worst of Winter Here; Damage Heavy

Manistique suffered its worst "blow" of the winter Thursday evening, and yesterday the community counted a number of broken windows and other damages as reminders of the storm.

Large front plate glass windows were broken at the Peoples Store, on Cedar street, Crawford and Holland garage on River street, and Falk's Hardware on Deer street. The sweeping wind also took off a portion of the roof at the Northwoods Manufacturing Co. handle factory, causing the suspension of work there yesterday morning. Windows were broken or cracked in numerous homes in the community as a result of the storm.

The wind subsided shortly before noon Friday. Highways west of Manistique remained open but in the eastern end of the peninsula, some of the main trunk lines were blocked by snow drifts.

The snowfall which accompanied the high wind was not heavy in volume but was especially heavy in weight, due to its great water content. This fact made the job of opening roads and driveways one requiring considerable work.

The Newberry-Manistique debate, scheduled for Thursday evening, was postponed to Friday because of the weather conditions.

DOWN IN TEXAS

Edinburg, Texas
Feb. 5, 1939

Escanaba Daily Press,
Escanaba, Mich.
Dear Friends:

Seems like it is about time I wrote a few more lines about the country I am visiting. Have been gleaning a little authentic information here and there and thought possibly some of the folks back home might like to hear some of it.

At this time here in the Lower Rio Grande valley everyone is getting ready for Charro days. Gaiety, bright color, picturesqueness, melody, dancing and the spirit of revelry will rule in Brownsville, at the tip o' Texas during the week of the 18th of February. This is only its second season but is already vieing with the Mardi Gras of New Orleans. Brownsville has a very tribulant career. On the border it was the scene of mauradings of Cortina, warfare, epidemics of yellow fever, etc. Perhaps these things are helping it to keep young in spirit and has lent to these Charro days an added gaiety.

The word Charro means Mexican cowboy or buckaroo, and the festivities is that of old time Mexico del Norte when life on the ranges and haciendos was carefree.

On Feb. 18 the old times will be brought back to the streets of Brownsville with a monstrous parade. Motor cars not allowed but this cavalcade will be wheeled by horses, mules, oxen and burros. The onlookers are supposed to wear costumes. These must be worn even in the shops and offices. The Charro pantaloons being much too tight for quick changing merchant's at their counters and professional business men at their desks will look like rakish vaqueros arrayed to impress the senoritas.

Chests have been ransacked and taken down from pegs in Matamoros and various Mexican communities.

One lady has a gown imported from Spain when the ill-fated Emperor Maximillian was attempting to set up an empire in Mexico and give his "court" the pomp and ceremony of Old World royalty.

But not in the tight pants and highly decorated coats and hats with far flung brims do the masculine celebrants of Charro days shine so much as with his whiskers. Every patroit of Brownsville and this means a great majority has been cultivating this facial adornment for at least a month according to his fancy and there are three general styles.

First is the "Charro special" in which the line of whisker curves gracefully down from each ear and meets in handsome harmony on the upper lip. On the chin, to give the picture balance, is a neat cascade. Second is the Imperial or goatee type which is affected by celebrants with acquiline features who apparently feel that this distinguished whisker makes them look even more eagle like or perhaps like Mephistopheles himself. The final style rather caps the climax, being an ensemble of the others with variations to suit the fancy and the suggestion that the design has been made by a scroll saw. Now, since the Rio Grande country is now a place of law and order, no wild whiskers dipping to the waist or lower will be countenanced this year by the Royal Court of Brush, which has full jurisdiction over all questions growing out of the whiskers and renders stern decisions, clapping fines upon those who violate the laws of the brush.

No one is allowed to laugh at these whiskers. In Brownsville he is admired and respected for them. Prizes are given on the day of days for the finest.

So the spirit of Charro days would call for a manly figure in glove-like pants, a coat rich in color and a wide-spread sombrero out from beneath which would look a whiskered face smiling at the world.

The school here in Edinburg is considered the finest in the United States and the pupils are farther advanced than anywhere but they only have eleven grades and everything is covered.

At present they are having quite a time here with the trucks that carry the grapefruit to the North. The old law says that no truck can carry over 7,000 pounds but the truckers declare they can not make it pay with so small an amount and while the roads are being blocked at present most of the men get through and the growers are trying to get that law repealed.

The Townsendites are quite plentiful down here and they had quite a reunion at Donna and a great many attended.

We were somewhat surprised to learn that grapefruit is fed to the stock here and if your fruit is not all picked by the first of April a government man has it picked and you have to either burn or bury it. Also it is ground up, after the juice is extracted and used for fertilizer.

It seems funny to be in a land of sunshine, flowers and fruits and know that at home folks are digging out of the snow.

Edinburg has a very entertaining party every Friday night for tourists and tries to make things pleasant for all.

We visited at Rio Grande City and saw the shrine built many, many years ago, and is still used by the Mexicans of that place.

Well, hope the folks enjoy the news of this part of the country and best regards to all.

YOUTH GIVEN PRISON TERM

Hyvanen Is Sentenced to 4½ Years at State Penitentiary

Erland Hyvanen, 21, of Calumet, received a sentence of 4½ to 5 years in the state branch prison at Marquette when he pleaded guilty to a charge of attempting to drive away an automobile, with intent to steal, at his arraignment in circuit court at Sault Ste. Marie Wednesday afternoon. He was sentenced by Circuit Judge Herbert Runnels.

Hyvanen, who was arrested in Manistique Monday evening, admitted his guilt at arraignment in justice court, and was taken to the Soo Wednesday morning by Prosecutor William Sheahan and Sheriff John Hewitt. Hyvanen pleaded not guilty when first arraigned at the Soo, however, but later decided to change his plea to guilty.

In passing sentence upon Hyvanen, Judge Runnels recommended that he serve four and a half years. Hyvanen had previously served prison time at Ionia and the Detroit House of Correction.

Hyvanen was arrested by Undersheriff Emery Barnes when Hyvanen attempted to steal the automobile owned by A. F. Cayia, parked on Cedar street, Monday evening. The youth later admitted he had planned to drive the car to his home at Calumet.

Prosecutor Sheahan and Sheriff Hewitt had planned to return to Manistique Thursday, but were marooned in the Soo because of blocked highways.

Vaccine Helpful In Prevention Of Whooping Cough

Years of patient research have at last yielded a whooping cough vaccine which, on the basis of recent tests, seems to be highly effective. As the malady is especially severe in children under five years old, sometimes resulting fatally, parents should consider giving such children this protection before the usual outbreaks of early spring arrive. Vaccination is desirable for older children but is not imperative.

One dose of the Sauer whooping cough vaccine is given weekly for three weeks. A skin reaction with some redness and tenderness may be expected for a day or so but this is not likely to be severe.

The diagnosis of the disease does not depend wholly upon the typical "whoop" which may be absent in the case of infants and older persons. Instead, a glass plate covered with a gelatinous solution is held before the cougher and the organisms retained on the surface are examined beneath the microscope. A blood specimen, too, will reveal an abnormally high white cell count. A case of whooping cough confers lasting immunity and a person occasionally may fall victim subsequently if closely exposed to a sufferer later in life.

In the light of possible complications, whooping cough should be prevented. Dr. L. W. Sauer who perfected the vaccine, was able to protect all but 32 children in a group of 2,453, ranging in age from six months to four years. In the same community, of 1,736 children not vaccinated, 286 developed whooping cough.

DEBATERS MOVE TO SEMI-FINALS

Manistique Team Scores Win Over Newberry In First Meet

The Manistique high school debate team moved into the semi-finals of the elimination series yesterday afternoon by defeating Newberry at the high school auditorium. Originally scheduled for Thursday night, the debate was postponed until yesterday because of the weather.

Professor Gunther C. Meyland of Northern State Teachers' college was sole critic judge of the debate. In presenting his decision, he stated that he rated the two teams equally on analysis and debating technique, but gave Manistique the margin of victory on knowledge of the subject, presentation and rebuttal.

Members of the Manistique affirmative team are John Solar, Jane Cayia and David Shinar. Newberry was represented by Richard Thackham, Alice Rretz and Phyllis Villemure. The local debaters are coached by Preston Tanis, assisted by Arwin Hoge, and Newberry debaters are coached by James W. Green. Priscilla Powers was chairman of the debate.

The debate yesterday was the first of the elimination series, in which eight teams will participate for the Upper Peninsula Interscholastic Debate league championship. Manistique's victory puts the team among the four to compete in the semi-final round.

Brotherton, Peters Lead in Doubles

Hugh Brotherton and H. Peters are leading the doubles tournament at the Brault alleys with a score of 1228. Brotherton posted a score of 624 and Peters scored 604. Peters had high game with 268.

Fire Department Answers 2 Calls

The Manistique fire department responded to two fire calls Thursday. The first was at the Maurice Reid residence, Maple avenue, at 3:05 p. m., due to an overheated stove. The second was at the Peter Durkos residence, Alger avenue, at 9:10 o'clock for a chimney fire. There was no damage at either fire.

1939 Gladstone Winter Frolic Gets Off To Good Start

Hundreds View Winter Carnival Opening; Skating Races, Queen's Ball Features of Today's Program

Despite crisp, almost zero weather, hundreds of persons turned out to view ceremonies last night which marked the opening of Gladstone's 7th annual winter sports carnival.

Featuring the evening's activities was the coronation of Queen Helen Mae Hedin and King Winter Fred Schram at a specially constructed throne at the playground ice rink.

The Gladstone-Gwinn basketball game and a torchlight parade up the main street and down Central to the rink preceded the ceremonies.

Indirect colored lights played upon the iced structure during the coronation and heightened the beauty of the rites.

Attended by members of her court and King Winter, Queen Helen Mae ascended the throne where they were greeted by Mayor Joseph LaFramboise who ably officiated and crowned both the King and Queen. The Mayor also welcomed them and presented both with a key to the City of Gladstone. Russell Skellenger, general chairman, presided as master of ceremonies.

Members of the court are Eileen Louis, Marion Boldus, Mavis Hoover, Alice Quinn, Patricia Nebel, Juanita Granberg, Ruth Danielson and Marjorie Ward.

Adding much to the colorful parade was the group of members of the Gladstone Ski club who, in ski garb, complete with skiis, had a place in the line of march. Comments on the appearance of the club praised the group highly.

Today's program will open this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock with a program of nine races for members of both sexes of all ages.

On the program are a midget boys, under 12, one lap; an open midget girls, under 12, one lap; girls race, 12-15, Gladstone; Boys' race, 12-15, Gladstone; Boys' race, 12-15, open; Boys' race, 15-18, open, 2 laps; Boys' race, 15-18, Gladstone, 2 laps; Boys race, 15-18, open, 4 laps; Girls' race, 18 and under, open, 2 laps.

During the afternoon there will be a skating drill by Queen Helen and members of her court.

In the evening, starting at 9:30 o'clock, the Carnival ball will be held at Terrace Gardens. Queen Helen and Winter King Schram will be presented to the merry-makers during the evening. Ivan Kobasic and his orchestra will furnish the dance program.

Skiing events centered at the winter sports park on the days river make up the major part of the final days' program Sunday. There will be flat races, jumping and slalom contests and a large number of entries for the events have been received by Hilding Granberg. Snowshoe ball and races will be interspersed.

Prizes for the various events are on display at the Olson and Hanson store.

A luncheon at the Legion hall has been arranged for Sunday evening at which time the various awards will be distributed and at its conclusion a public skating party will be held at the playground rink bring the carnival to a close.

Charles Fernea, Former Resident, Dies At Ishpeming

Charles Fernea, former resident of Gladstone and a brother of Mrs. John Pettit of this city, died Thursday in Ishpeming, according to word received here. He was employed by the city.

Mrs. Pettit was called to Ishpeming Wednesday when his condition became serious.

Funeral services will be held at Ishpeming Sunday afternoon.

Stonington

Stonington, Mich.—Over thirty young people enjoyed the sleighride party sponsored by the Bible Luther League Friday evening.

Refreshments were served in the church parlors following the sleighride. A truck and two sleighs took the group from the church to "Tom Erickson's" corner and back.

Hans Lorenson who was injured, while working in the woods, has returned to his home from St. Francis Hospital. A skid flew up and hit his face breaking his nose and injuring his upper jaw.

Bertle Sigfred is confined to his home with illness.

Miss Helen Proehl and George Honberg, local teachers, attended the teachers institute in Escanaba on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Allim Lawson of Escanaba were visitors in Stonington Sunday.

Norman Nelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gust Nelson, has been ill at his home with tonsilitis.

Marilyn and Shirley Johnson have been ill with severe colds.

Mrs. Charles Johnson has been sick since last week. Anna Johnson is employed at the Johnson home while Mrs. Johnson is ill.

Among those who have recently purchased horses and cows are Joseph Peterson who purchased a cow from Charles Wnuck, Hugo Jacobson a team from Jim Smith and Arthur Nystrom a cow from Jim Smith at Rapid River.

The results of the treatment for Bots administered to horses in this community has proved very satisfactory.

Dr. Hanson of Marquette administered the treatment. He was accompanied by Dr. Heiden and Mr. Wenner of Escanaba.

The local Grange had their regular meeting Saturday evening.

C. P. Titus, County School Commissioner was a caller in this community on Monday.

BOYS FALL IN RIVER

Battle Creek, (AP)—The body of Robert Hainline, 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Hainline, was recovered Wednesday from the Battle Creek river and a search got under way for Robert's four-year-old cousin, Gordon Hainline, who was seen playing with Robert.

Police said they believed both boys walked onto the ice in the river and fell through. A toy pistol belonging to Robert and one of Gordon's mittens were found at the edge of the stream.

STUDENT TRIP

Garden, Mich.—All students of the High School, accompanied by the faculty, Frank G. Tebo, Ray E. Ranguette and Miss Johnson went to the deer yard, located near the Big Spring, Wednesday afternoon, in the two school busses. Thomas Mellon, Conservation Officer stationed at Manistique, met them there and explained the habits of the deer as they come to these protected quarters for food and shelter. Lots of tracks were in evidence but the deer were not "at home" and so missed having their pictures taken. The Big Spring, in winter garb, was also visited.

GUILD MEETING

Rev. and Mrs. A. J. Parker of Rapid River attended the meeting held at the home of Mrs. William La Belle Wednesday afternoon. Following the business session of the society, a church meeting was held. The next gathering is scheduled at the home of Mrs. Paul Lamkey on Ash Wednesday, Feb. 22.

STITCH AND CHATTER CLUB

Mrs. Joe Hermes of Van's Harbor entertained this society at her home Wednesday, serving a chicken dinner after card games which brought rewards for Mrs. Robert Lester, Mrs. Charles Gauthier and Mrs. Roland Boudreau.

Mrs. Walter Stellwagen was the hostess last week when Mrs. Robert Lester and Mrs. Roland Boudreau received awards in 500.

BRIDGE CLUB

Mrs. Wm. Swaer of Van's Harbor was hostess Wednesday evening, when a chicken supper was served at 11 p. m., following games of bridge in which Mrs. Nora Lester made high score and Mrs. Alice La Belle, low.

ICE HARVEST

Van's Harbor fishermen and the Peninsula Packing Company have commenced on their annual cutting and storing of ice, which is not the usual thickness due to the mild season. This is employing many of those who cannot ordinarily obtain work.

City Commission Is Backing Rail Move To Block Truckers

The Gladstone City commission in special session Thursday evening went on record as being opposed to hauling of bulk gasoline on public highways and adopted in a resolution a request to the Michigan Public Utilities commission that a permanent permit to haul by truck from Kipling be denied and that temporary or permanent authority be refused at any future date.

The meeting at which railroaders, gasoline dealers and interested citizens were present was the outgrowth of an effort being made by the railroads of the Upper Peninsula to have the utilities commission deny the issuance of a permanent permit to any trucking company to haul gasoline from the bulk plant of Thiesen and Clemons at Kipling to various parts of the Upper Peninsula. The hearing is scheduled for Lansing on Feb. 16.

Joseph Poffenberger, manager of the Kipling plant, appeared before the commission and declared that his company had made a request for rates from the railroad on Sept. 1 and did not receive an answer or a schedule until Feb. 7. He declared present railroad rates almost prohibitive and said because of flexibility and rate costs it was expedient to use trucks in the Upper Peninsula. He said he believed the resolution was discriminatory and that if the railroads desired the business they should go after it and be able to compete for it. He said the low rates made for savings to the consumer.

R. H. Allie, Lansing, publicity director for the Michigan Railroads association, in answer said that the Soo Line had petitioned the Western Trunk Line for rates comparable with those offered at the present time by the truckers.

He also said he believed there was a little misrepresentation on the part of the trucking firm when they petitioned for a temporary permit to truck gas from Kipling as they only declared that there was no adequate truck facilities here and that they failed to mention that there was adequate rail facilities.

Allie pointed to the loss in revenue to the railroads of the Upper Peninsula and described what continued trucking might have on railroads. Several other railroad men in the audience were heard.

The text of the resolution:

February 7th 1939

Gladstone, Mich.

Whereas the transport of gasoline in bulk quantities in the Upper Peninsula has been entirely by railroads, in a manner wholly satisfactory and at rates against which there has been no complaint; and

Whereas, the Michigan Public Utilities Commission has granted a temporary permit for the hauling by highway of gasoline in bulk from the tank farm, so-called, at Kipling, Mich., to various points in the Upper Peninsula, which permit it is now requested shall be made permanent; and

Whereas, if this is done, the railroads of the Upper Peninsula stand to lose immense sums of revenue to which they legitimately are entitled and of which they should not be deprived, and

Whereas, such losses of business to the railroad inevitably must mean loss of jobs of many railroad employes who are our home-owning, taxpaying fellow citizens and who constitute a major factor in our economic prosperity and civic life; and

Whereas such costly diversions of traffic from our railroads, if continued, must result in unavoidable discontinuance of their operation and ultimate abandonment, an occurrence especially tragic in the Upper Peninsula, which because of its climate, great distances and scattered pools of population is peculiarly dependent upon railroad transportation; and

Whereas, the railroads have consented to take whatever physical steps are necessary to provide service out of the tank farm so-called, and have even voluntarily offered to lower rates to a level comparable with the truck rates proposed, and

Whereas, permanent authority to haul gasoline in bulk by truck means subjecting our highways to an additional excessively heavy traffic which generally they have not been built to withstand, and

Whereas, such authority will needlessly add to the normal hazards of private citizens on the highways by subjecting them to the menaces inherent in a type of cargo of such dangerous character that it should be handled in a more remote, less indiscriminate and more sharply regulated fashion than on our highways, therefore

BE IT RESOLVED, that the common council of the City of Gladstone go on record as opposed to the hauling in bulk of gasoline on our highways, as opposed to the granting of such authority and that the honorable members of the Michigan Public Utilities Commission be requested not to extend the present temporary order and to refuse a similar temporary or permanent authority at any future date.

Mrs. Peter Cannon Has Perfect Hand In Cribbage Game

Mrs. Peter Cannon, 1216 Dakota Avenue, got a thrill that comes seldom to a devotee of cribbage when she held a perfect hand. Mrs. Cannon was playing with her husband Thursday evening and held three five spots and the jack of clubs. The five of clubs was cut, giving the much coveted 29-count hand.

BY FREDERICK GARDNER

New York, Feb. 10 (AP)—A little late buying in steels and motors enabled the stock market to regain its stability in part today after a general downward drift throughout the great part of the session.

The turnover of 444,638 shares, compared with 546,720 the day before, was the smallest 5-hour total since September 6, last.

With only 621 individual stocks changing hands, there were 249 declines, 187 advances and 185 finished at Thursday's final quotations. The Associated Press average of 60 issues was unchanged at 49.9.

Lack of interest during the greater part of the day was attributed by brokers partly to desire of traders to keep commitments light pending clarification of the European scene and spring domestic business prospects.

Propping the list in the closing period was the announcement U. S. Steel's January shipments of finished products touched the highest monthly total since October, 1937, and an estimtaed increase in this week's automotive production of some 6,000 units.

The jump in steel shipments was better than expected in some quarters. As a possible reason for the upswing, it was suggested the corporation may have completed deliveries against low-priced contracts which had been taken in the early fall of last year.

Brightening the picture also was the report that, of the heavy shipments of foreign gold coming into this country, some $600,000,000 had been "ear-marked" for nations that might spend it here for armament and other materials in the event of a war outbreak abroad.

Stocks emerging with gains of fractions to around a point included U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, General Motors, Chrysler, American Telephone, Glenn Martin, Sperry, United Aircraft, Consolidated Edison, Sears Roebuck, J. C. Penney, General Foods, Commercial Solvents, Southern Pacific and Union Carbide.

Johns-Manville dropped 3½ points at 90½, and minor losses were shown for Douglas Aircraft, Westinghouse, U. S. Gypsum, Santa Fe, Standard Oil of N. J., General Electric, American Smelting and Philip Morris.

In the curb fractional losers—which were in the majority—included Electric Bond & Share, American Gas & Electric and Sunray Oil. Turnover of 89,000 shares was the smallest since September 22 and compared with 115,000 Thursday.

New York, Feb. 10 (AP)—Bonds floundered fractionally downward today. Industrials, rails and low-yields slipped, while only U. S. treasuries and utilities registered gains.

Treasury 2½s of '45 ended the day up 6-32 point, but the buying was too small on other advancing issues to indicate trend.

The same was true, in many cases, of the utilities, although Columbia Gas & Electric 5s of May, 1939, were purchased so actively they advanced ¾ to close at 101.

Elsewhere, the quiet scene included American & Foreign Power 5s, down ½ to 54¾; American Telephone 3¼s of '66, down ¼ to 187 1-8; International Hydro Electric 6s, up 1-8 to 78 7-8; International Telephone 5s, up 7-8 to 69 7-8; and Western Union 5s, up 1½ to 60½.

Representative rails showed: Baltimore & Ohio convertible 4¼s down 3-8 to 11 7-8; Rock Island 4s of '88 down 1-8 to 1 3-8; Erie 5s down ¼ to 11¼; Illinois Central 4¾s to 49¾; Southern Railway 4s down 1½ to 53½; and Nickel Plate 5½s down 1¼ to 62¼.

Foreign government issues were decidedly mixed in their trend, but in their geography; while Latin American bonds generally advanced, European issues went the other way. Argentine 4s of '72 were bought briskly, advancing 5-8 to close at 78; Cuban 5½s of '45 jumped 2 1-8 to 70½.

The day's turnover was the smallest for a full session since January 30, totalling $4,869,500, face value, compared with $5,152,300 Thursday.

Perkins News

Perkins, Mich.—Among those attending the funeral of Mrs. Adolph Johnson, old and respected resident of Perkins, in Gladstone Wednesday were Titus Hall, Mrs. And. Stevenson, Mr. and Mrs. Nels Peterson, Mrs. And. Satterstrom, Mr. and Mrs. Axel Carlson, Axel Deline, Clayton Norden, Lawrence LaChance, Mannie Hall, Mrs. Otto Soderstrom, Mrs. Fred LeBreshe, Mrs. Ernest Carlson, H. D. Gibbs.

Mrs. Eugent Marenger, Mrs. G. J. Depuydt, Mrs. E. W. Carlson and Mrs. J. C. MacNamara motored to Harris Tuesday to visit at the R. W. Hughes home.

Mrs. O. J. Schuster and son Jon of Manistique visited at the Axel Carlson home Tuesday.

Misses Lorraine Norden, Judy Gerou, Luella Gerou, Leone and Julia Casimir and Mary K. Whitney enjoyed a skating party at Gladstone Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Arvey and son Martin attended the funeral of Mr. Arvey's uncle in Iron Mountain last Friday.

Mrs. H. C. Gibbs and Mrs. J. C. MacNamara attended the luncheon given by Mrs. Wm. Miller at her home Wednesday for the Catholic Ladies' Aid.

H. D. Gibbs and daughters Margaret, Mary and Joyce were callers at the R. W. Hughes home in Harris Thursday. Miss Joyce Gibbs remained there to visit for a few days and Mrs. Hughes accompanied them to Perkins to spend a short time.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING INFORMATION

Errors in advertisements should be reported immediately. The Daily Press will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion.

All ads are restricted to their proper classification and to the regular Daily Press style of type. The publishers reserve the right to edit or reject any classified advertising copy.

Advertising ordered for irregular insertions takes the one time rate. No ad is taken for less than a basis of three lines. Count six average words to the line. An average word contains six letters.

Accounts unpaid after 20 days will not be granted further credit.

Charged ads will be received by telephone and if paid at the Daily Press office within six days from the first day of insertion cash rates will be allowed.

Ads ordered for three or six times and stopped before expiration will be charged for only the number of times the ad appeared and adjustment made at the rate earned.

The Daily Press makes an earnest effort to keep its advertising columns free of deceptive and dishonest announcements. Readers are requested to report unsatisfactory dealings with any advertiser in these columns.

PLEASE DO NOT ask for information on blind ads. The Daily Press will not disclose the identity of any box number or give any information not contained in the ad itself. A flat charge of 10c will be made for each box number issued.

Angola—Adolf May Annex It

WHATEVER comes out of the new German demands for colonial expansion, Angola may find itself a prize in the diplomatic grabbag.

Angola is a strip of Portuguese territory in South West Africa. It boasts a 1000-mile coastline running south from the mouth of the great Congo river. Its area is nearly 500,000 square miles. And it is rich in the raw materials which Nazi Germany must have to bolster up her ambitious program.

There have been rumors that Germany was considering negotiations to lease parts of Angola for 99 years. Angola, in any event, needs security and is located precariously. Germany might, for instance, repay Portugal in armed support in a Europe jittery beyond imagination.

In any event Angola looms as a precious prize for Germany, what with her gold, silver, manganese, cotton, copper and rubber. Angola also produces coffee, palm oil, ivory, cattle and hides, and dried salt and fish. All of these, it must be remembered, are needed in Germany today.

Whether Germany could successfully colonize the territory is another question. Angola has about 3,000,000 inhabitants. There are about 40,000 foreigners, of whom 90 per cent are Portuguese. Some program might be worked out to recognize Portugal's colonial sovereignty, but which would give Germany vital trade rights at the same time. A stamp of Angola issued in 1922 is shown here. Portugal has owned Angola continuously since 1575.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Chicago, Feb. 10 (AP)—Wheat values averaged fractions higher in a light trade today with closing prices 1-8 lower to ¼ up.

Buying credited to mills and reports of sales of 216,000 bushels of wheat overnight by local shippers encouraged a little speculative support early and prices advanced as much as ½ cent. Support was given the upward movement by unchanged to fractionally higher openings at other domestic markets. Liverpool, reflecting the price fall here yesterday, opened down, but strengthened later.

Independent weakness that developed late in the corn market helped carry wheat prices 3-8 cent below yesterday's finish for a brief period. Wheat closed 1-8 lower to ¼ higher, May and July 67½ to 67 5-8; corn unchanged to a cent lower, May 48½ to 48¼; July 49½ to 49 3-8; oats ¼ to 3-8 lower, May 27 3-4; soy beans 1-8 higher, May 79 3-8; rye unchanged, May 44 3-4; lard 5 cents lower.

Oats and rye markets encountered some liquidation and prices declined fractions. Lard again suffered losses, reflecting weakness in cottonseed oil.

Eskymos Win, 36-23; St. Joseph Beaten, 38-15

BAD START IS NO HANDICAP

Swanson Leads Escanaba With 17 Points; Three Out On Fouls

Menominee, Mich., Feb. 10—Undaunted by a disastrous start in which they spotted their opponents a 12-2 lead at the end of the first quarter, a fighting Escanaba high school quintet came back with superb playing to defeat a stubborn Menominee crew by a score of 36-23 in an interesting game here tonight.

In a fast preliminary, the visiting reserves also won 19-10.

The feature game was a peculiar one, the locals hopping off to a 12-2 lead in the first quarter in an unexpected attack featured by accuracy in shooting by the Maroons. The Escanaba boys were quite helpless in this period.

Swanson Gets Hot

The complexion of things changed materially, however, as the Eskymos, with Elmer Swanson in the van, ran up 11 points and held the locals to but two, the situation being almost completely reversed. The Eskymos employed the same strategy as they did in the first meeting of the two teams, feeding Swanson, who was open frequently because of a weakness in the right side of the Menominee zone defense.

The visitors continued their stubborn defense in the third period, holding the locals to a free throw while helping themselves to 12 points, a lead which enabled them to win the game easily.

Swanson led the Eskymos with 17 points while Bennett and Olson contributed eight and six points. Refling and Baumler led the locals.

Escanaba lost Hansen and Bennett on fouls while Zeloski of Menominee was eliminated the same way.

TOP SPOT HOT FOR HOOSIERS

Game With Iowa May Cinch Lead In Big Ten

Chicago, Feb. 10 (AP)—Indiana's first place Hoosiers will be directly on the spot tomorrow night when they engage Iowa on the latter's home floor.

The Big Ten basketball race so far has been characterized by the inability of the top-ranking team to maintain its position. Minnesota, Illinois and Ohio State all took their turn in the van, but none could hold the spot.

Now all are tied for second place, only a slight distance behind the Hoosiers whose game with Iowa is their first since taking possession of the leadership.

A victory over Iowa would give the Hoosiers five victories in six games and a head start on the championship road. The three teams tied for second have won five and lost two.

A crippled Illinois team invades Lafayette tomorrow night to meet Purdue in an effort to advance either to second or first place. The ailing Lewis (Pick) Dehner and Bill Hapac, high scoring aces for Illinois, are expected to play part of the game.

Should the Illini win and Indiana lose the former would take over first place and the latter would sink to fourth.

In the third conference game Saturday Northwestern plays Chicago. The only other team active is Michigan which goes to East Lansing to play Michigan State.

Red Wings To Try Out Johnny Sherf, Calumet Puckster

Detroit, Feb. 10 (AP) — Johnny Sherf, product of Calumet rinks who captained the University of Michigan hockey team in 1936, will join the Detroit Red Wings for their National League game against the Americans at New York Sunday, Manager Jack Adams announced Friday.

Adams said that if Sherf "showed anything at all" he would remain with the major league and Carl Liscombe, leading scorer of the Wings last season, would go to Pittsburgh. Sherf, a left winger, has been playing with Pittsburgh, Detroit's International American League farm. Sherf had a trial with Detroit last season before being farmed out.

Michigan Sports In Short Squibs

(By The Associated Press)

Detroit, (AP)—Newman Ertell, coach of the Wayne university basketball team, disclosed Friday that Ted Daniel and Byron Grace, sophomore cagers, had been declared ineligible because of scholastic standing. Gordon Clayton, Wayne center, has been forced to the sidelines by a knee injury and will be unable to start against George Washington university here Tuesday.

Ann Arbor, (AP)—Yale university's swimming team ventures into the west for the first time Saturday to renew a feud with the University of Michigan. The teams first met in 1929 when Yale triumphed. The Elis repeated in 1930 and the schools did not meet again until last season when Michigan won 41 to 34 at New Haven. A sellout crowd is certain to witness the clash.

Detroit, (AP)—With Bob Calihan, high scoring center, recovered from an ankle injury, the University of Detroit's basketball quintet will be at top strength for its clash at Ypsilanti Saturday night with Michigan Normal. The Titans beat the Hurons 48 to 35 at Detroit several weeks ago.

H'VILLE BEATS HARRIS, 40-10

Well Balanced Attack Is Too Much for Coach Nelmark's Five

Hermansville, Mich., Feb. 10—Harris high school cagers blew into a storm of heavy proportions here tonight, five Hermansville boys traveling at top speed dropped in field goals from all angles on the floor to trounce Coach Nelmark's crew by a 40-10 margin. It was the sixth league victory in a row for Hermansville, which has undisputed possession of first place.

In a preliminary, the local seconds also won by 31-8.

Every one of Hermansville's five regulars scored at least five points, St. Juliana, center, leading with 10 points. After the first few minutes of play, Hermansville had the game well under control at all times.

R. Houle, Harris center, was the only one of the visitors who had much luck, scoring six points. The game was a cleanly played one, nine fouls being called on the locals and seven on the visitors.

Hermansville will entertain Vulcan next Wednesday night. Hermansville's only defeat this season has been at the hands of Channing.

PRO GRID LOOP STAYS CLOSED

Increased Membership Proposal Rejected At Chicago Rally

Chicago, Feb. 10 (AP)—The National football league took unanimous action today against increasing its membership or sponsoring the organization of other professional circuits.

President Joe F. Carr said no formal applications for franchises in the league had been received, but several cities, including Cincinnati, Buffalo and St. Louis, have expressed a desire to join the league.

The league reinstated Ken Strong, former New York university star who will rejoin the New York Giants, which he left three years ago to play with a rival pro group.

The league set up rules for an annual post-season game in Los Angeles in January. The game will be between the league champion and another team composed of all-stars picked by a newspaper poll from the other nine league teams.

Head Coach Marty Bell and Athletic Director Jimmy Stewart of Southern Methodist university asked the exhibition games committee to permit the runner-up elevens each year to play a squad of college all-stars at Dallas. If granted, the all-stars would play the Green Bay Packers next fall.

SPILLING the DOPE

BY JOHNNY INKSLINGER

We are still interested in George Mathison's campaign to find a suitable name for Gladstone high school athletic teams . . . among the names already submitted are Pointers, Minnewascans, Norsemen, Rangers, Foresters and Britons . . . sometime ago, we suggested the latter name only to find that Mathison had beat us to the draw in an earlier issue of his publication . . . of the names suggested, we object only to Minnewascans and Foresters, both on the grounds that they are too long for publicity purposes . . . it has been suggested that a committee be names to make final selection . . . this committee, as proposed, would consist of one elected representative from each of the four high school classes, two members of the high school faculty who are graduates of Gladstone high school, Principal C. C. Strickland, Supt. A. R. Watson and a member of the board of education . . . we'd like to make a suggestion of adding Coach Keil to the list.

—O—

Here's the long delayed tribute to Clyde McGonagle, our assistant prosecutor, and his undefeated Loyola University cagers of Chicago . . . Clyde is a typically loyal alumnus and never passes up an opportunity to give us the raspberries for not running a feature story about his alma mater's great basketball team . . . Clyde was in Chicago Wednesday night to witness the epochal battle between Loyola and DePaul and he sent us advance clippings about the game with the notation: "Hope the boys win tonight after all my gabbing about them." . . . the boys came through alright, beating DePaul by 36-26 and now Clyde is happy, we think . . . in yesterday's Daily Press, we ran a picture of Wibs Kautz, highest scoring guard in the country, who heads the Loyola team . . . there you are, Clyde, all things come to them as what waits!

—O—

Juel Lee just missed the hall of fame last week, scattering the pins for a 298 mark at the local alleys . . . Green Bay Golden Gloves tourney opens Monday . . . among the peninsula favorites entered again are Johnnny Haindl of Cooks, Buddy Wall of Vulcan, Bill Jorden of Manistique, Dennis Kequom of Manistique and Arthur Miller of Cooks . . . all of which reminds us that a suggestion has been submitted to us that the Escanaba department of recreation sponsor an amateur county-wide tournament . . . it's a good idea and we hope it can be carried out sometime in the not too distant future.

UPBAYS DEFEAT GWINN BY 24-6

Soyring Makes All of Visitor's Scores In One Period

Gladstone, Mich., Feb. 10—In one of the most peculiar games seen here in several years, Coach Eldon Keil's cagers of Gladstone easily defeated Gwinn by a score of 24-6.

The peculiar part of the game is the fact that all of Gwinn's six points were made by Soyring, center, in the second period on three field goals. Except for Soyring's one man uprising in this period, the locals had the game well in hand, Gwinn being held scoreless in the first, third and fourth periods by a tight Gladstone defense.

Gladstone got off to a 7-0 start in the first quarter and added six points in the second period, these six points being offset by Soyring's three field goals. Gladstone, playing consistent ball, scored six more in the third and topped it off with five in the last frame.

Gladstone's scoring was well divided with Dahl contributing six points for the highest score.

The game was exceptionally clean, only four fouls being called on each team.

Marquette Team At Rock Sunday

Rock, Mich., Feb. 10—It will be somewhat of a homecoming for three former Little Giant athletes here Sunday afternoon when the Marquette Bottlers play Frank's team at the high school gym in a non league game.

Three members of the Marquette team saw their prep service at Rock high school under former coach George Weingartner. They are Kaukola, Jack McCracken and Henry Hakanen. McCracken finished his career at Graveraet high school in Marquette.

Frank's team is composed of former Little Giant stars, including the three Trombly brothers, Kaukola, Lauri, Niemi, Pilon and Salmi.

The game is scheduled to start at 2:30 o'clock and a large crowd is expected because of the natural rivalry between the two teams.

'STIQUE LOSES TO NEWBERRY

Free Throws Prove Too Much for Emeralds; Lose By 26-23

Newberry, Mich., Feb. 10—Newberry's accuracy from the free throw line proved the downfall of Manistique high school here tonight, Coach Joe DeCook's Indians nosing out the Emeralds by 26-23 in a hard fought game.

In a preliminary, the local reserves also won, 24-20.

The feature game was a nip and tuck affair all the way with the lead changing hands frequently. Manistique was off to an 8-4 lead in the first quarter but bogged down in the second frame, scoring only one free throw while the locals were chalking up six points to lead 10-9 at half time.

Newberry continued its pace in the third period to get a 19-14 advantage at the three quarters mark and Manistique, led by Center Hellsten cut into the lead in the last frame but was unable to completely close the gap.

The Indians were outscored by the Emeralds from the field but dropped in 10 free throws to five for the visitors.

WORLD'S DASH RECORD FALLS

Penn State Negro Sets Mark; Cunningham Beats Fenske

Philadelphia, Feb. 10 (AP)—Norwood (Barney) Ewell, Penn State negro freshman, set a new world's record of five and one-tenth seconds for the 50-yard dash tonight in winning the finals of the event in the second annual indoor Penn A. C. track and field carnival. The former record of five and two-tenth seconds was set in 1916 by J. G. Loomis of St. Louis, Mo.

Glenn Cunningham, the durable Kansan, reserved his kick for the final lap to defeat Chuck Fenske, former Wisconsin star, by three yards in the "Pennac mile," in 4:15.6. Don Lash, former Indiana star, was third and Frank Donohue of the Passon A. A., Philadelphia, fourth.

Lash led the first five laps of the 12-lap race with Cunningham and Fenske alternating a close second. Fenske forged ahead at the start of the sixth lap and held the lead until the start of the final turn around the track.

Cunningham's time set a new middle Atlantic A. A. U. indoor record. The former mark of 5:17 was set by Ray Conger in 1931.

Ewell nosed out Johnny Maher, Villanova college runner and former National Catholic interscholastic sprint champion, in a blanket finish before a crowd of 7,500.

The Penn State freshman, who finished second in the Millrose 60-yard dash at New York last Saturday, previously had equalled, along with Maher and Eddie Junghans of Pennsylvania, the previous meet record of five and three-tenths seconds.

Stella Walsh, Cleveland's great woman athlete, won the handicap 220-yard dash for women in 26.3 to break the former meet record of 26.6 seconds.

Events Bounce Back In Sports Columns

BY WHITNEY MARTIN

New York, Feb. 10 (AP)—Cause and effect, or, it's a dead ball that doesn't bounce:

Cause—Tennessee 17, Oklahoma 0, in the Orange Bowl football game Jan. 2.

Effect—Coach Tom Stidham of Oklahoma seeks a rematch next December to salve the Sooner pride.

Cause—Hank Greenberg, Tigers slugger, got 58 home runs last season.

Effect—Greenberg gets a "nominal" raise, believed to bring his 1939 salary to around $30,000. Babe Ruth hit two more home runs in one season and drew $80,000.

Cause—A recent comment concerning the "return" of pro basketball in the near future.

Effect—Roy Shudt, sports editor of the Troy, N. Y., Times-Record, points out that good pro basketball is very much among those present. In fact, the American league, made up of the New York Jewels, Brooklyn Visitations, Washington, Philadelphia, Union City, N. J.; Kingston and Troy, N. Y., and Wilkesbarre, Pa., claims to play the fastest basketball in the world. The cream of the college crops is on the rosters, including nearly every player of the "wonder five" at St. Johns.

Cause—Jimmy Foxx, outstanding American league player last year, feted at 53 banquets during winter months.

Effect—Foxx only eight pounds above normal playing weight of 190, proving you can lead a horse to pasture but you can't make him eat. Jimmy knows that if the waist line is fat, the batting average isn't.

Cause—Tommy Farr sails for England.

Effect—Yoe Yacobs, Tony Galento's manager, immediately announces Tony is ready to meet Farr. When Farr was near, Yacobs couldn't see Farr. (Maybe that's carrying a pun a little too Farr).

Cause—The general shouting for a match with Joe Louis by contenders, some of whom possibly are afraid they might be heard.

Effect—J. C. "Scoop" Latimer, sports editor of the Greenville, S. C., News, suggests the Galentos and Novas and Farrs and the rest be booked with Louis for a battle royal in the Greenville folding gloves tournament in the community cow pasture, with the last man on his feet the undisputed champion. (Jack Roper, the fighter of many years standing, we hope, is not included. He'll get a private audition on the west coast.)

Conn Gets Dander Up And Wallops Apostoli

New York, Feb. 10. (AP)—Billy Conn's Irish dander was aroused by a poke in the eye in the second round tonight so the clever Pittsburgh youngster swarmed in from there on and walloped favored Fred Apostoli in a blood-curdling 15 round battle in Madison Square Garden. Conn weighed 167 to the San Francisco fighter's 161.

Cheered on by a near sell-out crowd of 18,988 fans who were out of their seats and roaring all the way, the lanky son of Erin did an even more convincing job on the half-holder of the world middle-weight championship than he did in whipping him in this same ring a month ago.

Twice In A Row

By the victory, which he turned in again with his educated left hand and a newly acquired right-cross that snapped in like a bull-whip, Conn becomes the first fighter ever to whip the ex-bellhop from the coast twice in a row. Several have tried it, but none got past Freddy more than once.

At the finish, Conn although gashed under both eyes and sporting a left side that looked like a broken bottle of catsup from Apostoli's right-hand smashes, coasted a clear margin. The Associated Press score card gave him eight rounds, with five for Apostoli and two even—and two of Fred's heats were taken away from belting Billy for low punching.

From start to finish, there was more action packed inside the Garden's ring than this big fight club has seen in many a day. The fireworks started in the second round, when Billy suddenly came out of a fast bit of infighting shouting at Apostoli and complaining to the referee. Under his right eye was a slash an inch-and-a-half long, which he charged was done by the heel of Apostoli's glove.

The referee apparently didn't agree with him, but the blow made Billy sore, and since Apostoli was the cause of the damage, he went to work on Fred as though he had decided to turn executioner.

That round went to Apostoli, like the first, but Fred's next showing in the scoring column didn't arrive until the sixth, so furious was the smoky city clouter's barrage. He landed half a dozen straight lefts without a return in the third and was on top all the way in the fourth, in which he hurt Apostoli with two smashing lefts to the side of the head.

Apostoli, meantime, was working largely on Conn's body. After his previous setback at Billy's hands, over the ten round route, he had decided the mid-section was the spot to shoot at over the longer route. Everyonee, including the betting fraternity, who had installed Fred an 8 to 5 favorite tonight had figured the 15-round stretch would work to Apostoli's advantage, but Billy apparently hadn't heard the news.

For, at the finish, he was still taking the play away from Fred with his left hand smashes despite Apostoli's attempts to rush matters.

Plans now are for Billy to confine his work to the light-heavyweights, and so convincing and crowd-pleasing has been his work in his two starts here that Promoter Mike Jacobs may decide to throw him right in with Melio Bettina, the New York state recognized title-holder.

Max Schmeling, the former heavyweight champion made his first public appearance at ringside since his recent arrival from Germany and received a tremendous ovation when he was introduced in the ring.

BOOKER OUTPOINTED

New York, Feb. 10. (AP)—Fritzie Zivic, fast-punching Pittsburgh welterweight, handed Eddie Booker of San Francisco his first defeat in 46 fights tonight by outpointing the Pacific coast negro in the eight round semi-windup to the Billy Conn-Fred Apostoli bout at Madison Square Garden.

Zivic, who scaled 146 3-4 to 147 1-2 for Booker, came from behind in the last five rounds to earn the decision. It was the first professional setback for Booker.

In another eight-rounder, Sammy Luftspring, classy welterweight from Toronto, won a clean cut decision over Frankie Blair, Camden, N. J. Luftspring weighed 149 1-4; Blair 154 1-4.

Ernie Vigh, 158 1-2, Newgurgh, N. Y., had his string of 13 straight knockout triumphs halted, but easily whipped Andy Melia, 159 3-4, New York, in a six-rounder.

SPARTANS OUT AFTER REVENGE

Both Michigan and State Bank On Comeback In Game Tonight

East Lansing, Feb. 10 (AP)—It will be "comeback" night at Michigan State college tomorrow when the Spartans and the University of Michigan meet on the basketball floor. Both teams will be trying to restore failing power and Michigan State will be out for revenge against the Wolverines.

Defeated 41 to 34 in a previous Wolverine game this season, Michigan State needs a win to balance its 10-year average with its traditional rivals. Michigan has won nine and Michigan State eight in that period.

The Spartans will advance Marty Hutt, their high scoring forward, as a foil for big Tom Harmon, the Wolverine's leading scorer and fifth highest point maker in the Big Ten.

ST. PAUL CAGERS IN GOOD FORM

Parochials Are Unable to Hit Hoop; Lose By 38-15 Score

Negaunee, Mich., Feb. 10—With Liquia and Torreano in fine form, St. Paul high school cagers of Negaunee had little difficulty in turning in their second win of the season over St. Joseph of Escanaba by a score of 38-15 in an interesting game here tonight.

Torreano and Liquia hit the hoops for 14 and 13 points respectively, taking St. Paul off to a good, early start which they never relinquished. The locals were hitting the hoop with consistency while Coach Brunelle's boys had much difficulty caging their shots.

The locals got off to an 8-0 lead at quarter time and stretched it to 16-4 at half time, going on to win without difficulty.

The game was rough in spots, 15 personal fouls being called on St. Paul and 11 on St. Joseph. Each team lost one player on fouls, Trotochaud of St. Paul and Ashland of Escanaba getting the bounce on four infractions.

MUNISING FIVE CLAIMS NO. 15

NSTC Frosh Are Latest Victims of Lews Store, 42-38

Marquette, Feb. 10—Holding their advantage despite a determined opposition rally in the final periods, the Lew's store independent basketball team from Munising chalked up their fifteenth straight victory here tonight by defeating the Northern State Teachers' college freshmen, 42 to 38.

The NSTC crew put on a strong spurt in the third and fourth periods which threatened the Munising team's lead, but the Lew's clicked on 18 out of 25 foul tries and kept their margin of safety. Villemure, with 18 points, was high scorer.

in a preliminary game, John D. Pierce defeated Eben, 36 and 20. The Central State-NSTC game, also on the bill, was postponed, Central being unable to travel because of the snow.

SARGENT WILL ATTEND MEET

C&NW Head Scheduled to Address Tri-State Convention

Ishpeming—Fred W. Sargent, president of the Chicago and North Western Railway, advised the Ishpeming Winter Sport club today that he will attend and be one of the speakers at the tri-state winter sports conference being held here February 21, sponsored by the Ishpeming organization.

Mr. Sargent was made available to the conference through the offices of the passenger traffic department of the railway, with which Ishpeming has been cooperating for three years. Hundreds of persons from Chicago and suburbs have visited Ishpeming this year for the winter sports.

Although the details of the conference are not complete, they are taking shape and it promises to be one of the most important steps toward the development and promotion of winter sports this part of the country has witnessed.

The club now has four headliners definitely ascertained for February 21. They are Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald, President Sargent of the Chicago and North Western, P. J. Hoffmaster, director of conservation, and Murray D. VanWagoner, state highway commissioner.

All have assured the Ishpeming organization of their attendance.

CRACK AT NATS IRKS WEILAND

Tall Card Tosser Says 'Old Man's League' Is Misnomer

Orlando, Fla., Feb. 10 (AP)—Tall Bob Weiland wants folks to know it will be strictly a case of "smile, stranger, when you say that," the next time he hears any cracks about the National being an "old man's league."

The St. Louis Cardinals' towering portsider has been building up a head of steam on that touchy subject for a long time and some recent public remarks by Pitcher Jack Russell finally burst the boiler of "Kid" Weiland's patience.

It seems Russell, a former American tosser now toiling for Chicago's Cubs, said throwers who couldn't do so well in the American frequently developed into winners in the senior loop. He said American league basmen were "homerun conscious" and generally more robust than the National's stickmen.

"How do you like that?" fumed Weiland, also an American league alumnus. "Rere's a guy that comes right out and bites the hand that feeds him. Imagine him saying that the National is an old man's league. Where does he get that stuff?"

During his eight years with Chicago, Boston, Cleveland and St. Louis in the American league Weiland won 21 games, lost 57 and had an earned run average of 4.80. In 1937 he went to the Cardinals and won 15 while losing 14. Last year he won 16 and lost 11 with a sixth place club. His earned run average dropping to 3.59.

"Barring lack of control, I was every bit as good in the American league," Weiland explained. "I've lost most of that wildness through hard work and then, you know it takes left-handers longer to come around than right handers for some reason."

Michigan Outdoor Show At Saginaw

Saginaw, Mich.—Merchants and the Saginaw News will cooperate again this year in conducting a Michigan Outdoor Show at the municipal auditorium here Thursday, Friday and Saturday, March 23, 24 and 25.

The News will publish a special tabloid edition formally announcing the show and containing a variety of miscellaneous information and pictures dealing with Michigan's summer and winter attractions.

Northern and upper Michigan communities and hotels and resort owners are invited to participate. Arrangements for space, exhibits, etc., can be made by communicating with Otto C. Pressprich, editor of the Saginaw News.

HOUGHTON SELLS BONDS

Lansing, Feb. 10 (AP)—The public debt commission authorized the village of Houghton to sell the remaining $30,000 of an authorized $50,000 issue of general obligation paving bonds, for which certificate was issued Jan. 12.

STORES CLOSE MONDAY

Lansing, Feb. 10 (AP)—State retail liquor stores were ordered to close Monday in observance of Lincoln's birthday, but the liquor control commission said specially designated liquor distributors might remain open from 7 a. m. Monday to 2 a. m. Tuesday.

On one Mexican railway line, solid ebony ties are used in sections to support the ties. The ebony flourishes in nearby forests and is so hard that holes must be drilled into it for the railroad spikes.

John Bissell Acquires Local Steam Laundry

Announcement was made yesterday of the purchase of the Escanaba Steam Laundry by John H. Bissell, son of Mrs. Clement W. Bissell of 314 Lake Shore Drive, from Mrs. Emil A. Grabowski, widow of the founder of the concern who died in 1932.

The purchase becomes effective Monday. Twenty-eight persons are employed in various branches of the establishment, which has departments for cleaning, dyeing and regular laundry work.

Bissell, who is a son of the late Clement W. Bissell and a grandson of Murray K. Bissell, pioneer Escanaba lumberman and president of the First National Bank, recently completed a course at the American Institute of Laundering at Joliet, Ill. He graduated from Escanaba high school in 1934, attended Cloverland Commercial college and was employed for two years in Woodall Manufacturing Industries, Detroit.

The late E. A. Grabowski founded the Escanaba Steam Laundry in 1901 and continued its operation until his death in 1932. Since then the plant has been operated by Mrs. E. A. Grabowski, with Miss Marie Thorsen as plant manager.

A pioneer in new laundering methods and equipment, Mr. Grabowski frequently was host to laundrymen from Michigan and nearby states who were interested in improving their plants.

The Zoric cleaning system was installed by Mr. Grabowski in 1931, and is now in use. One of the first installations of its kind in the state, the system was the first to bring safe dry cleaning—without the fire danger which was prevalent where inflammable liquids were used.

MICHIGAN PUC BILL SPEEDED BY GOVERNOR

Maurice E. Post, chairman of the house state affairs committee, said today.

Post said the proposed merit bill would not be drafted until the legislative committee investigating civil service reports its findings.

The Rockford Republican, who is speaker pro tem of the house, said the joint porposals would meet Governor Fitzgerald's demand that the legislature correct "injustices" in the present act.

Post said state Personnel Director William Brownrigg would be dismissed if the bill is enacted.

He declared the contemplated legislation "will be a good bill. It will exempt employes in state institutions. Under the civil service law these institutions have had reduced efficiency, and their administrative officers reported they had difficulty filling vacancies in their staffs."

Post added that a repeal bill would be quickly passed if sent to the floor now "and we might not get anything to take its place."

Brulatour Escapes Jail; Pistol Wound Still Unexplained

New York, Feb. 10 (AP)—By a two-to-one vote of special sessions justices today, Jules Brulatour, wealthy film distributor, escaped the 30-day workhouse sentence which one justice recommended and instead was fined $500 for illegal possession of a pistol.

The gun was the one with which Brulatour was wounded in the neck on January 22 at his Park Avenue apartment—a shooting which Brulatour said occurred accidentally while he was cleaning the weapon, but which Assistant District Attorney Eunice Carter told the court "has not been satisfactorily explained to the people even yet."

Brulatour, husband of Actress Hope Hampton, was criticized from the bench for his failure to cooperate with law enforcement officials. He did not report the shooting or turn over the pistol immediately.

Weakened Spartan Track Crew Takes On Irish Tonight

East Lansing, Feb. 10 (AP)—A Michigan State college track team, weakened by the graduation of two stars, opens its season tomorrow against Notre Dame university at South Bend, Ind.

Loss of Harvey Woodstra, outstanding hurdler, and Ken Waite, a strong distance runner, leaves Coach Ralph H. Young in doubt as to what his lads can do.

The Spartans will depend heavily on Wilbur Greer, one of the nation's best dash men.

HOLDUP NETS $800

Detroit, (AP) — Approximately $800 was obtained by an armed robber who held up Frank Boyle, paymaster of the Commonwealth Brass Corp., Friday.

Japanese Seizure Of Hainan Island Threat For France

Tokyo, Feb. 10 (AP)—A Japanese expeditionary force today seized the chief cities of China's Hainan island, off the south China coast, 300 miles southwest of Hongkong and close to the empire lifelines of France and Britain.

(Hainan, commanding eastern approaches to French Indo-China, has been considered within France's sphere of influence and observers believed Japanese occupation might mean trouble with France.

(In Paris, however, it was authoritatively indicated that France would not act, assuming that the Japanese occupation would be temporary.)

An admiralty spokesman said the expedition's aim was to strengthen the Japanese blockade of the Chinese coast and smoke out smugglers responsible for running arms to Chinese Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek.

Duration of the occupation "will depend entirely on military necessity," he said.

BOUT ASSURED LOUIS IN JUNE

Training Camp Set Up On New York World Fair Grounds

New York, Feb. 10 (AP)—A fight for Joe Louis in June in New York was virtually assured today when Promoter Mike Jacobs completed details for construction of an elaborate training camp for the Brown Bomber on the world's fair grounds.

Although Mike refused even to intimate what challenger he has in mind for Louis—Tony Galento has been mentioned most prominently—he announced the heavyweight champion definitely would do his preliminary work at that training base "for a June fight."

The camp will have an arena large enough to seat 4,000 persons.

It was indicated he planned to go into the proposition on a 50-50 basis with the fair.

"Of course," Mike explained, "anyone can train there, but it is being erected especially for Louis for a June fight. If it is constructed in time, either Max Baer or Lou Nova may do some work there before their fight in May."

Adjoining the camp will be a boxing museum, set up as an exhibit of old-time boxing equipment and data.

Right To Tax State And Municipal Bond Incomes Challenged

Washington, Feb. 10 (AP)—Raising the issue of "states' rights," representatives of virtually every state challenged today the constitutionality of suggested federal taxation of income from state and municipal bonds.

In a joint brief filed with a senate finance subcommittee, attorneys general of 39 states contended the states' consent must be obtained through amendment to the Constitution.

Attorneys from a dozen states supported this contention, in uncompromising terms, in testifying before the committee on President Roosevelt's recommendation that legislation be passed empowering reciprocal federal and state taxation on each other's security payments and salaries.

The house already has approved legislation covering the question of salaries. No objection to this arose in today's senate committee hearings.

POLICE CHIEF ROBBED

Niles, (AP)—A thief who showed no respect for the law by breaking into the home of Chief of Police L. O. Bates ad stealing a revolver, a jar of pennies and jewelry was sought by officers here Friday. Bates and his family were out of the city when the robbery took place.

BODY OF POPE LIES IN STATE AT CATHEDRAL

this morning and given to Cardinal Pacelli. The ring will be broken and the seal in a new ring will be handed to the new pontiff by the camerlengo to show that the temporary sovereignty of the sacred college has ended.

Italian Favored

Speculation on which cardinal most likely would receive the required votes from his co-princes of the church centered upon Alfred Ildefonso Cardinal Schuster, Archbishop of Milan, and Adeodato Giovanni Cardinal Piazza, Patriarch of Venice. But the possibility of a surprise election was not excluded.

There are 35 Italians among the 62 cardinals and it was expected an Italian would be elected.

The first of nine daily funeral services in St. Peter's for the late pontiff will begin Sunday, ending five days after his burial in the Chapel of the Popes in the crypt of the Cathedral.

L'Osservatore Romano, Vatican City newspaper, said today Pius XI gave his health in a struggle for peace and it expressed the hope the sacrifice might be effective even after his death on the eve of the anniversary of the reconcilation of the church and state in the Lateran accord.

May Publish Speech

Recalling that the pontiff had offered his life for peace, the newspaper asked:

"Did the Lord then accept the sacrifice at the dawn of a great day of peace?

"In the tremendous anguish of this hour, among the dolorous trials of the church, in the midst of so much tumult of ideas and passions, in the face of threatening rumblings of sinister things, at the eve of an uncertain tomorrow, humankind must believe so in order to be faithful in its devotion to the mysterious designs of Providence."

But what the pope himself intended to say to the Italian bishops he had called to Vatican City for the peace anniversary tomorrow may never be known.

The cardinals in a meeting tomorrow will decide whether to make public the manuscript for the anniversary address preparation of which cost the pontiff so much exertion.

The Lateran accord of Feb. 11, 1929, ended a bitter, 59-year quarrel between the church and state, but last year a new rift appeared with the enunciation of the new Fascist racial policy.

In his Christmas Eve message to the cardinals, the pope spoke of "offense and wounds inflicted on our concordat" by marriage provisions and racial laws.

Sister Grief-Stricken

Donna Camilla Ratti, sister of His Holiness, who saw him in death this morning, was the most grief-stricken of all who knew him.

Led into the death chamber by a secretary, she fell to her knees, sobbing, praying and kissing her brother's hands and feet until she was led away.

When the heart of the 81-year-old Holy Father, weakened by long illness, ceased to beat at 5:31 a. m. (11:30 p. m. E.S.T. Thursday), there began ceremonial rites and procedures that are centuries old.

While the body was washed in perfumed water and prepared for embalming, Cardinal Pacelli, who has directed the foreign affairs of the Vatican for eight years, took charge of all Vatican activities.

In conducting these activities, he will be assisted by the college of cardinals. The cardinals will meet tomorrow in their first general congregation to dispose of Vatican business.

Vatican affairs will be supervised through a series of "congregazioni," or committees of four cardinals, three of whom will take turns according to seniority. Cardinal Pacelli as camerlengo is the guiding member of each successive committee.

Arelio Mistruzzi, sculptor, was summoned to make a mask of the pope before the body was embalmed.

Whether His Holiness left a will concerning personal and private property could not be ascertained at the Vatican. Some sources said they understood he had disposed of all of his private possessions while still alive.

Rome In Mourning

Cardinal Pacelli's first act on assuming his duties as temporary administrator of the church was to go to the papal apartments on the third floor of the Vatican palace.

Escorted by Swiss guards and followed by the pontifical camera, or treasury body, he entered the room where the pope's body lay and officially identified it for notarial registration of death.

Then, with the same procession, the cardinal returned to his apartments.

Outside Vatican City, Rome went into mourning as deep as that within the pontiff's temporal realm.

Flags drooped at half staff throughout the city.

King Vittorio Emanuele ordered court mourning for eight days.

All public places of entertainment were closed; schools suspended classes for the day and will do so again on the day of the pope's burial.

Families prayed before portraits of His Holiness in their apartments.

Guided 331,500,000

Crowds gathered in the chill, damp haze in St. Peter's square.

Within the great cathedral, the red coverings which had been placed on pillars for next Sunday's intended celebration of the 17th anniversary of Pius' coronation were taken down and mourning draperies put up.

Mourners moved in a steady stream into the cathedral to kneel in prayer where low masses were said in various chapels.

For the procession to the Sistine chapel, Crown Prince Umberto represented the king, his father, while Premier Mussolini was represented by his son-in-law, Count Gaileazzo Ciano, foreign minister.

After four large candlesticks with lighted candles had been placed around the bier and guards took their station at each side, Monsignor de Romanis, the pope's sacristan, imparted a benediction.

Then came the cardinals, each sprinkling holy water on the body and then kneeling and praying before retiring.

The candles threw their flickering light on the tired and sunken face of the pastor who had guided his flock of 331,500,000 for so many years.

The noble guards began their guard of honor, eight at a time, which will last throughout the night.

At 9:30 a. m. tomorrow the body will be borne into St. Peter's to lie in state for veneration of the public.

It seemed to persons within the Vatican and without that many scarcely could comprehend that the pontiff was dead as he had resisted illness for so long.

Doctors said that every day for a week, with his mind on the planned celebration of his coronation anniversary next Sunday, His Holiness had said:

"We will do it Sunday! We will!"

BREAKS UP VACATION

New York, Feb. 10. (AP)—Millions of sorrowing Catholics of this country prayed tonight for the soul of the dead Pope Pius, as the three cardinals of the United States made urgent preparations to assure the participation for the first time of an American group of the hierarchy in the elevation of a new pontiff.

Denis Cardinal Dougherty of Philadelphia made reservations to sail for Rome tomorrow aboard the Italian liner Rex; George Cardinal Mundelein of Chicago broke off his Florida vacation and took a train for New York to join the ship.

William Cardinal O'Connell of Boston, putting aside any concern for himself that a man of 79 might have, ended his visit at Nassau in the Bahamas and arranged to sail tonight for New York. He will arrive Monday and leave on the liner Saturnia.

The liner will be held beyond her regular sailing time of 1:30 p. m., EST, until the cardinals are aboard and, if she proceeds on schedule, will arrive in Naples—a three-hour train journey from Rome—on Feb. 18, a full week at least before the conclave of cardinals is convened to choose Pius' successor.

Arrived Too Late

This opportunity to have a voice in the selection of a pope, the most important ever to fall to prelates of this country, was made possible by Pius himself upon his elevation 17 years ago as the 261st head of the church of Rome.

At the death of Pope Benedict XV on Jan. 22, 1922, Cardinal O'Connell took the first available boat, but arrived in Rome after the ancient ritual of election had been completed, and Achille Cardinal Ratti had become Pope Pius XI.

He spoke of his sorrow at having been unable to participate in this, one of the most majestic of all the tasks of the cardinals, and Pius promised him that after his own death ample time would be allowed to permit the arrival of every cardinal.

Although American Catholics are financially the heaviest contributors to the church, and the country's Catholic population grew from 17,000,000 to 20,000,000 during the reign of Pius XI, there appeared little likelihood that the white wisp of smoke arising from the sistine chapel would announce an American pope.

For four centuries popes have been Italian, their selection having frequently been from among the archbishops of the more important Italian sees.

EIGHT MEMBERS OF 4-H CHOSEN

County Students Listed to Compete for State Club Scholarships

Eight Delta county 4-H club members have been selected as Upper Peninsula honor members to be considered in the selection of state 4-H club scholarship award winners, E. A. Wenner, county agricultural agent, announced yesterday. Selected by Clare A. Rood and Marcella Meyer, U. P. assistant club leaders, the county students are eligible for selection for four awards valued at $95 in Michigan State college fees.

The Delta county honor members are Andrew Skaug, Raymond Peterson, Margaret Pedersen, Joyce LeClaire, Jean Mae Casey, Marie Theoret, Jean Forbear and Eileen Norden.

All honor members were selected because of their work on summer projects. Types of work in which the honor members participated during the summer season are as follows: Andrew Skaug, farm mapping; Raymond Peterson, first year dairy club; Margaret Pedersen, farm garden; Joyce LeClaire, second year canning; Jean Mae Casey, third year canning; Marie Theoret, food preparation project one; Jean Forbear, food preparation project two; and Eileen Nordeen, food preparation project three.

FRANCO'S MEN OCCUPY LAST BORDER POST

Catalonian offensive they launched last Dec. 23. The last of the government's tattered soldiers were expected to cross into France by tomorrow.

Franco, in keeping with his pledge to the French government, held his Italian troops far from the border and left mostly Navarrese as sentries on the French line.

Eat Mule Meat

Eight American members of the international brigade in the concentration camp at Argeles, France, were given the papers necessary for entry into the United States today by Vice Counsul Charles Gilbert, the first representative of a foreign government to visit the camp.

The other 30 or 40 in the camp who claim American citizenship must wait a further checkup. Among those already passed was Samuel Deluca, Milwaukee.

The Americans were in a wired-off corner of the huge camp in a section reserved for the international brigade. Compared with others in the enclosure, they were well off since they managed to bring across the border with them a truck full of food and baggage.

In fact all they lacked was salt and pepper for their noonday meal of beans and fresh-killed mule—which they also brought with them.

Rudy Vallee Hit Him, Says Busboy

Miami, Fla., Feb. 10 (AP)—Rudy Vallee was charged with assault and battery today in a warrant sworn out by Dillard Rodney Bordon, 17-year-old busboy at a night club where the crooner appeared last week.

The warrant said Vallee struck the busboy after Bordon touched the singer with a tray backstage last Saturday night.

Vallee, now in New York, denied he struck the boy and told friends here he merely gave Bordon a "verbal rebuke of carelessness" after the latter pushed several greasy trays against his back, leaving marks. Vallee said he pulled the trays from Bordon's hands.

A University of Chicago survey shows that most students marry between the age of 20 and 25.

Pontiff's Remains To Be Placed In 3 Separate Caskets

Vatican City, Feb. 10 (AP)—Vatican workmen were ordered today to make ready three caskets in which the body of Pope Pius will be buried in the grottoes of St. Peter's.

The pontiff's body will be placed in them in an elaborate funeral service observing traditions centuries old.

The inner one, in which the body will lie, is to be of cypress wood lined with red satin, having a cross of walnut on the cover.

It will be placed inside a second of lead, a quarter of an inch thick and weighing nearly 900 pounds. On its cover toward the head will be a cross in relief and it will have a skull and cross bones in the middle. At the bottom will be the family coat of arms of His Holiness. During the service it will be soldered shut and Eugenio Cardinal Pacelli will assist in applying seals to it.

Both caskets will be placed inside the third, made of polished elm. Its cover will also be surmounted by a cross, but will have besides that a skull and cross bones and an inscription and coat of arms.

'Miss Marquette' Coronation Held

Marquette, Mich., Feb. 10. (AP)—About 2,000 persons braved the zero temperature here tonight to see Miss Margaret Miller, Northern State Teachers college co-ed, crowned Miss Marquette at Harlow Park, in which there are about 50 ice-sculptured objects. Later Miss Miller presided over the coronation ball at the Palestra.

During the afternoon about 20 "fun police," attractive high school misses, arrested and fined persons who had violated official regulations by not wearing sports apparel.

Miss Miller will be Marquette's entry in the Queen of the North contest which will be held next week in connection with Ishpeming's second annual "Carnival of the North." At least 15 upper peninsula queens will be entered.

A tri-state winter sports promotion meeting also will be held.

IRON MOUNTAIN TEAM BEATEN

Escanaba Debaters Win First Elimination Contest

Escanaba high school debaters won their first contest in the elimination series at the junior high school auditorium, defeating Iron Mountain affirmatives in a close contest.

Professor Forest Roberts of Northern State Teachers college was the sole critic judge.

Iron Mountain was represented by William Cochran, Cornelius Peck and Demetra Corumbus. The locals consisted of Bob Beaudoin, Lorrayne Charlebois and Frank Bender.

Music was furnished by a senior girls' octet directed by Lucille Nelson.

Joseph Shipman, speech instructor at the senior high school, was chairman of the evening.

Schultz Mob Check Is Traced To Hines

New York, Feb. 10 (AP)—A racetrack bookie's cashier testified today at the retrial of James J. Hines that he received from Hines' betting agent a $500 check endorsed "J. Hines" which allegedly had been paid to the Tammany district leader by the attorney of the Dutch Schultz policy racket.

The witness, Carl Von Lautz, said he received the check from Ed Holley, a Hines lieutenant, in June, 1934, to cover gambling losses and endorsed it.

Mrs. Rose Wendroff, a sister of J. Richard (Dixie") Davis, former lawyer for the Schultz mob, previously testified she gave the $500 check to Hines on June 22, 1934.

"Rented the first day" said Smith. Try a For Rent Ad today.
